Ike Proposes Talks July 1 at Geneva

Would Concern Methods of Policing Possible Tests Ban

Washington — President Eisenhower today proposed to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that technical talks begin July 1 in Geneva on methods of policing any possible future ban on nuclear tests. The White House made public a letter from the president stating that the Swiss government has agreed to the Geneva site, which Eisenhower said would be preferable to Moscow from the U. S. viewpoint.

Khrushchev in agreeing to such talks had suggested they be held in his own capital.

Western Participants Eisenhower told the Russian premier this government would not object to the inclusion of experts from Czechoslovakia and Poland on Russia's side. The western powers participating, he said, would be the United Kingdom, France, and possibly other countries in addition to the United States.

Eisenhower noted that Khrushchev has indicated Russia would not object to the inclusion of additional western nations having experts in the field of nuclear test detection.

With respect to neutrals, Eisenhower told the Russian premier that "we have no objection in principle to their joining later in the discussions if it is agreed during the course of the talks that this is necessary or useful."

That might let such countries as India into the talks.

No Commitments Eisenhower suggested that provision should be made for the talks to continue slightly longer than the three or four weeks which Khrushchev had suggested earlier in the Eisenhower-Khrushchev exchange.

This might be advisable to resolve the complex technical questions involved, Eisenhower said.

The presidential letter said: "These talks would be undertaken without commitment as to the final decision on the relationship of nuclear test suspension to other more important disarmament measures I have proposed."

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty disclosed yesterday the letter was en route to Khrushchev, but the text was withheld to make sure the message was in Khrushchev's hands before it was made public.

House Inquiry Is Delayed by Clash During Hearing

Washington — A house inquiry into the affairs of Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine was temporarily derailed today by a legal hassle between Goldfine's attorney and the congressmen.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) who says his subcommittee needs Goldfine's records for its investigation of federal regulatory agencies, finally recessed a scheduled forenoon hearing until 1:30 p.m. He said his group would decide then what to do next.

Harris called off the morning session after Atty. Gen. Roger Robb demanded a closed session. Robb said he wanted to protect innocent persons against "wild accusations" likely to be made in an open hearing.

Robb also asked Harris to quash a sweeping subpoena for Goldfine's records that was served on Goldfine's bookkeeper, Mildred Paperman.

Macmillan Envisions Gradual Discard of All Major Weapons

Baltimore — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan called today for a start toward building world peace through a "little by little" approach to discarding all big weapons — atomic and others.

Macmillan spoke at commencement exercises at Johns Hopkins university where President Eisenhower introduced him as "a great free world leader." Both were given honorary degrees by the school.

Gradual Progress Macmillan said the western world alliance has served its purpose well and must be continued as a shield against communist aggression.

"But I am not without hope," he said, "that we may succeed little by little, if not all at once, in making some progress toward the relaxation of tensions in the world."

Macmillan said it would be foolish to expect any summit have established a beginning of

Dulles Says U. S. Quick Action Goal Seeks Inspection For Legislation Up Posts in China At Special Session

Adequate System Needed Before Any Nuclear Tests Ban

Washington — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States probably would want international inspection posts within communist China as well as elsewhere to police any agreement to ban nuclear weapons tests.

U. S. scientific experts have advised him that an adequate system to supervise test suspension would have to cover such areas as communist China, Australia and the Sahara desert, Dulles told a news conference.

The meeting with newsmen came within an hour of the release of a letter from President Eisenhower to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev proposing that technical talks on how to police a test ban begin July 1 in Geneva.

Not Political Jobs Dulles said he had conferred with the experts who would represent this country at Geneva, all top-flight physicists, and told them their job was completely technical and not in any way political. The experts are Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence of the University of California; Dr. James Brown Fisk of Bell Telephone Laboratories and Dr. Robert F. Bacher of California Institute of Technology.

Dulles also told his news conference: "The United States will deal with anybody—including communist East Germany—to obtain freedom for Americans who have been in a sense kidnapped."

Khrushchev apparently has asked the United States to grant Russia long-term credits so Russia can more successfully wage economic warfare against the United States. This was the essence of Dulles' comment on a letter from Khrushchev last week suggesting that the U. S. government finance expanded sales to Russia.

Word Awaited From Ike on Trade Measure

Washington — House leaders looked today to a plea from President Eisenhower to help them put across a 5-year extension of the reciprocal trade program.

They expected the plea in the form of a letter to Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, to give them an edge of 20 to 30 votes in tomorrow's showdown balloting.

Martin told reporters he expected to receive the president's communication in time for a speech he has scheduled for later today.

South Carolina At Primary Polls

Columbia, S. C. — South Carolina Democrats vote in primaries today for a gubernatorial candidate and for six nominees to the U. S. House of Representatives.

Election officials anticipated 300,000 of the 539,000 registered party members would ballot in primary results, barring run-offs are considered tantamount to election in this overwhelmingly Democratic state.

Contending for the nomination to replace Gov. George Bell Timmerman, Jr., are Lt. Gov. Ernest F. Hollings, Mayor William C. Johnston of Anderson and Donald Russell, former president of the University of South Carolina.

Lebanon Will Receive Full U. S. Support

Nasser Accused of Threatening Peace By Helping Rebels

United Nations, N.Y. — The United States prepared today to throw its full support behind Lebanon's charge that the United Arab Republic is threatening peace by aiding Lebanese rebels.

Informal quarters said Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge would line up with the pro-western government of Lebanon when the U.N. Security council meets this afternoon to resume debate on the Middle East dispute.

U.S. officials had tried in vain to persuade Lebanon not to bring the issue before the council. They now were reported to feel that Foreign Minister Charles Malik had made out a good case against U. A. R. President Nasser.

Impressive Evidence One of Lodge's deputies, James W. Barco, told the council in a preliminary statement Friday that the evidence presented by Malik had been very impressive.

Lodge was expected to enlarge on this and take a more positive position. He also was expected to warn the Nasser government that it must respect Lebanon's independence.

The prospect for any decisive U.N. action on the Lebanese complaint seemed remote despite the support of the United States. So far no country has come up with any sort of resolution against the U. A. R. limiting the assembly's power. The Soviets would veto any such resolution anyhow.

The chief significance of the Lebanese move so far is that it forced the United States to take the side against Nasser Confederation of Christian Workers today. He assured them he wanted workers to have a larger voice in the legislative system, Secretary Sobolev still has not made his main speech on the dispute.

Hundreds Apply For AMC Jobs

Firm Announces It Will Add 1,200 More Employees

Milwaukee — Hundreds of job-seekers swamped the Wisconsin State Employment Service offices here today and formed a blocks-long line in downtown Milwaukee after American Motors Corp. announced it will hire 1,200 more employees.

The auto firm asked the state employment service to screen applicants for 450 more workers at the Kenosha assembly plant and 750 more at the Milwaukee body plant where Rambler cars are built.

The lineup was the longest outside the Milwaukee office since the end of World War II. It started forming more than two hours before the office opened at 7:45 a.m. At 10 a.m. police estimated that 650 men were waiting in line on sidewalks in the smart shopping area, and that 600 already had been processed by state service workers.

Willett S. Main, district manager of the service, estimated that 2,500 to 3,000 applications would be handled by day's end.

The hirings, Vice President E. W. Bernitt said at Detroit yesterday, are designed to end overtime work on Saturdays and reduce other overtime as Rambler production schedules are increased from the present 750 to 835 a day.

The new hirings will raise AMC employment in Milwaukee to 4,400 and at Kenosha to 7,500, some 34 per cent higher than a year ago.

Size or Weight Not Given But Projectile Will Not Be Carrying Instruments

Milwaukee — Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson, director of air research and development command, said today that the air force will "shoot for the moon" in August.

Gen. Anderson said that the air force would fire three "lunar probes" this year. The others are scheduled for September and October, he added.

He declined to disclose the size or weight of the payload, the air force hopes to deliver. It will not be instrumented and will be intended simply to crash on the satellite, he said, giving "some indication" of its arrival.

Three-stage rockets whose main power plants at takeoff will be modified Thor missiles will propel the projectiles over a 278,000 mile course to the moon in two and one-half days, Gen. Anderson said.

The vehicles will be modifications of military missiles, he added.

The Thor is a 1,500-mile range weapon. At least 13 have been test fired and of these at least five have been successful.

Gen. Anderson said that even if the rockets miss the moon, they will become "real inter-esting scientific satellites" because their elliptical orbits will carry them far out into space and possibly around the moon and earth in a sort of figure eight.

New Atlas Attempt Gen. Anderson said that the first attempt to fire an Atlas over its full designed range of 6,000 miles also would be made in August. "We have fired the last" of the overweight, heavily instrumented a series intended for engine tests of the Atlas, he said.

An Atlas missile, or a Thor with appropriate later stages, would be capable of hoisting in to orbit a 3,000 pound artificial satellite like the Russian Sputnik III, Gen. Anderson said.

Given sufficient funds, the United States could be "second to nobody" in space, he declared, adding: "We are doing about 40 per cent of what we think we should be doing."

Gen. Anderson was in Milwaukee to confer with technicians at the AC Spark Plug division of General Motors where the gyroscopic guidance system for the military version of the Thor is built.

No Final Decision In Washington, Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's advanced research projects agency said "there is no final decision as to firing schedules for the lunar probes assigned to the air force and the army by ARPA."

The defense department announced last March that up to five lunar probe rockets were planned, with three to be fired by the air force and two by the army. That announcement said the air force would use a Thor and Vanguard combination as the first two stages of a 3-phase power plant, with the third stage to be developed.

Johnson's statement said ARPA "will decide when the shots will be attempted and the decisions will be predicated on the developments of the instrumentation, the hardware, and more important, the tracking equipment."

Johnson added that "no attempt will be made to achieve direct contact with the moon in the projects now assigned."

Two Fined for Topsy Driving

One Held in Jail When Unable to Pay $100 Fine

Two men pleaded guilty this morning in municipal court of drunken driving.

William Metoxen, 27, route 2, West De Pere, was held in the county jail when he was unable to pay the $100 fine. He was arrested Saturday night at the junction of County Trunks EE and J in the town of Osborne. After a resident reported to county police he was driving recklessly.

Metoxen tested .18 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Wallace K. Hedtkc, 24, 1320 W. Commercial street, was fined $100. He was arrested by county police Saturday in the town of Greenville after he drove his car into a ditch. He did not take the drunkometer test.

Drivers licenses of both men were revoked for one year.

Mitchell Attacks Labor Union Bill

Represents Administration Stand, Calls It Ineffective; Democrats Charge Ignorance, Pressure

Washington — The Eisenhower administration, in an unexpected attack, contends a proposed senate bill aimed at curbing abuses in labor unions is "completely ineffective."

The administration stand was set forth yesterday in a statement by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, who said, in effect, the bill is worse than no bill at all.

"We need legislation that will add to, not subtract from the existing protections which the law now provides for union members, individual workers and the public," he said.

Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), two of the bill's principal sponsors, promptly challenged the administration attack. They denounced it as stemming either from ignorance of the bill's provisions or from political pressure.

Administration's Views
In releasing Mitchell's statement, the labor department said it represented the administration's views. Mitchell himself is attending a meeting in Switzerland.

Mitchell said the bill, approved last week by the senate labor committee, and now awaiting senate action, follows some of the "carefully developed, reasonable proposals" recommended by President Eisenhower. But he added:

"The proposals as a whole would provide completely ineffective legislation, which would delude the workers of this country and the American public into believing they had protection they did not in fact have."

He said the bill would require him to inspect the books and records of a union suspected of law violation, but would give him no authority to compel testimony, hold hearings or issue subpoenas to get the information.

Greater Union Voice
The bill, endorsed by Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark) of the senate rackets committee, is aimed at curbing abuses by giving rank and file members a greater voice in union affairs and by requiring public reporting of union financial dealings.

Election of officers by secret ballot for limited terms is included among its provisions. Among other criticisms, Mitchell said the bill's provisions for financial reporting and other union money safeguards would exempt more than 60 percent of the nation's labor unions.

Also, he said, the measure destroys present rights of union members to seek court relief to enforce their rights "and in some cases destruction of the present legal protections provided union members."

Red Cross Banks $50,000 for Tornado Aid

Menomonee — A check for $50,000 to aid the tornado-stricken families in several northwestern Wisconsin communities was deposited in a local bank by the American Red Cross Monday.

Kenneth Sass, a Red Cross accountant from Washington, D.C., said the organization expects to maintain its disaster field headquarters here for at least five weeks. Some 25 Red Cross workers interviewed persons affected by the violent storm.

A board of farmers, bankers and attorneys in each of five counties will recommend items to be repaired or bought with Red Cross funds to aid victims of the storm.

British Red Tape Tangles Van Cliburn On European Tour

London — Van Cliburn, 23-year-old American pianist who won Moscow's biggest musical prize, got tangled in British red tape briefly today.

The young Texan, winner of Russia's Tchaikovsky prize arrived by plane from New York to start a brief European concert tour. Immigration officials stopped him for questioning because he had no labor permit. He was allowed to leave after phone calls to the U. S. embassy.

Cliburn appears with the London Philharmonic at Albert Hall Sunday. He will also play in Amsterdam and at the Brussels World's Fair before returning to New York July 15. Accompanying the pianist were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cliburn of Kilgore, Texas.

'Right-to-Work' Action Bad, Candidate Says

GOP Proposal Will Hurt Conditions, Seraphim Maintains

By The Associated Press

A Democratic candidate Monday night said the Republican recommendation of a referendum on 'right-to-work' legislation launched the Wisconsin GOP on a course "designed to bring sub-standard wages and poor working conditions" to Wisconsin workmen.

"This has been the pattern in states that have adopted 'right-to-work' laws," said Christ Seraphim, Milwaukee attorney who seeks the Democratic nomination for attorney general. Seraphim addressing a Sauk county Democratic meeting at La Valle, said, "The states where industry and commerce have grown the fastest and prospered the most have no 'right-to-work' law. Such states are New York, California, Michigan and others."

Need Cooperation
Philleo Nash, who seeks the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, said Monday in Milwaukee that prompt cooperation is needed if urban communities are going to solve the mutual problems of metropolitan expansion.

State Sen. Gaylord Nelson, Democratic candidate for governor, Monday blamed the recession on the American failure to keep up a 4 1/2 percent annual increase in national production.

Nelson said a free economy could compete with the Soviet-controlled economy only if the U. S. keeps growing at the 4 1/2 percent rate which, he said, even conservative economists accept as a needed minimum.

Guaiac to Zyzogeton

Kids Cram for Spelling Bee, Spend Days With Dictionary

BY G. K. HODENFIELD

Washington — It's quite possible that a zyzogeton would get nuchalgia if it ate a guaiac.

Chances are the 68 finalists in the national spelling bee wouldn't know what to do about it. But most of them would know that a South American leaf hopper got a pain in the neck from eating a tonka bean.

The kids get that way from long hours spent poring over a dictionary. They study the dictionary the way some kids study the piano, with long hours of practice. They prepare for the national championships in a way a finely trained athlete gets ready for the big game, even to a preliminary warm-up.

2-Day Finals
Tomorrow morning these 68 regional champions go at it in the first session of the two-day finals. If the contest goes according to form, the winner should be known about Thursday noon.

In previous years the finals have been crammed into one day, but officials decided that

Boys Plunged to Death As Car Drops Off Cliff

Parents Unable to Help, Watch Auto Drop to Bottom of Gorge

Cameron, Ariz. — "We didn't have a chance."

Those words, spoken in a voice lowered by grief, were repeated over and over yesterday by Frank Qualls, a vacationing Brownsville, Texas, school teacher.

Qualls, 29, and his wife, Kath. U. S. keeps growing at the 4 1/2 percent rate which, he said, even conservative economists accept as a needed minimum.

Two small sons to death in the Little Colorado river gorge.

Coroner James Brierley said the children's parents apparently had failed to engage the parking brake when they stopped at a viewpoint and stepped out of the car to look at the scenery.

Seconds later, the car rolled about 25 feet, dropped off the sheer cliff and plummeted 600 feet to the bottom of the gorge.

The victims were James, 5, and Harold, 15 months.

Members of the family said the Qualls' car and another, driven by Qualls' brother-in-law, D. H. Dull, pulled onto the viewpoint parking area about eight miles northeast of Cameron on State Highway 84.

The adults and Dull's son, Kenneth, 10, got out of the cars and walked over for a peek into the gorge.

Kenneth walked back to the Qualls' car to get a camera. As he reached inside, he said he felt the car move. He screamed a warning.

Couldn't Reach Car
Another tourist, Norman J. Carr of St. Louis, Mo., heard Kenneth's scream, saw the car rolling toward the edge and ran toward it — too late.

Qualls, his wife and Dull also dashed toward the car. They, too, were unable to reach it.

The car plunged down the sheer cliff, bouncing from protruding rocks and ledges, crumpled and caught fire. The children's bodies were found some distance from the wreckage by a steeplejack and three other men who climbed down the bluff.

Senate Appropriates Money for Green Bay Post Office Building

Washington — The construction of a $2,093,380 postoffice building at Green Bay, Wis., was allowed to remain under the lease-purchase program Monday as the U. S. senate passed an appropriations bill.

The bill ends the lease-purchase program for future projects under which the government contracts for a building and pays for it on a long-term installment basis.

The Green Bay building was left in the lease-purchase program because it was one of 22 structures on which construction was under way or about to start.

Signs Show Khrushchev Preparing for Purge Of Chief Kremlin Rival

Mikhail Suslov, Propaganda Head, Not Present at Summit Meeting

New York — Signs from Moscow indicate that Nikita Khrushchev may have pulled the rug out from under his chief Kremlin rival Mikhail Suslov preparatory to purging him.

Suslov is a secretary of the Soviet Communist party's central committee, outranked only by First Secretary Khrushchev himself. He is also a member of the presidium of the central committee, the group of top Khrushchev, the practical politician.

At least until recently he headed all the propaganda and cultural work of the Kremlin, a leading party theoretician and had charge of the Kremlin's relations with foreign Communist parties.

Organized Opposition
Some indirect and direct evidence also indicates that Suslov on occasion has managed with some success to organize opposition in the central committee to policies of Khrushchev.

The signs that Suslov may be on the way out are too clear to be missed:

1. He has been absent from public appearances of the Kremlin leadership since May 16.

2. Particularly important was Suslov's absence from the recent Communist summit meeting, which demonstrated beyond any doubt that he had been removed from his former task of conducting relations with foreign Communist parties.

3. On May 17 it became known that the head of the central committee's section on propaganda and agitation, F. V. Kon-

Salle unless she was semi-conscious from the shock of the accident.

Miss Parker will be unable to attend funeral services tomorrow for her father, George Lofton Parker, 63, of Pomona Park, who owned Parker Printing Preparations, a Jacksonville firm.

Pierre de La Salle

Salle of New York City, a free lance writer who came here to visit her, told newsmen last night "I have never been married to Miss Parker or anyone else."

But hospital officials said when the movie actress and model was admitted Saturday, after the train-car crash in which her father died, Miss Parker gave her name as Mrs. Pierre de La Salle.

New York sources said she wed La Salle in 1955 but the marriage was kept secret to avoid conflict between her career and her romance.

"I deny it," La Salle said after newsmen chased his taxi from the back door of the hospital and caught him before he got inside his motel room.

"She is only a dear friend and my only reason for being here is my concern for her condition," La Salle said.

He said he doesn't know why she gave her name as Mrs. La stantinov, had been replaced by L. F. Ilyichev. Since this was the key central committee section under Suslov and Konstantinov was Suslov's protege, this indicated a fall in Suslov's authority.

4. Khrushchev, speaking in Bulgaria June 3, made an all-out attack on theoreticians and an equally vigorous defense of the practical politicians. Ostensibly the vitriolic condemnation of empty theoreticians was directed at Yugoslav president Tito. But the real target may have been Suslov, the theoretician, as contrasted with committee, the group of top Khrushchev, the practical politician.

5. The central committee on June 8 took the seemingly unnecessary step of rehabilitating the already rehabilitated leadership composers who were attacked as formalists in February 1948. This may well be a veiled attack on Suslov, since Suslov under Andrei Zhdanov was largely responsible in 1948 for the implementation of Stalin's policy of putting Soviet creative artists in a steel vise of Communist party control.

Group Reports Cost of Work On Capitol

$1,250,000 Tag Put
On Air-Conditioning
For State Building

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—A report worth $1,250,000 to the taxpayers of Wisconsin to have a couple thousand state officials and employees toil in an comfortable comfort in the state capitol.

The report is the informal price tag put on the installation of air conditioning in the seat of state government, according to a committee report.

The committee made no comment on the estimate, nor has it moved to approve expenditure of some $7,000 to make a detailed engineering survey of the costs of air conditioning the building. There also was no mention that more than half of the state officials and employees who work in Madison have their offices in buildings and annexes well removed from the capitol proper and would not be affected.

The legislature holds its sessions in the capitol building, and this presumably got delegates interested in modernizing it.

Several methods are under consideration, but each of them would cost money that could only be provided by the legislature itself, in its 1959 regular session at the earliest.

Girl Fined After Tossing Rock at Police

An 18-year-old Appleton girl who cursed police Monday night and threw a rock at two of them was fined $20 this morning in municipal court on charges of disorderly conduct.

Florence C. Knapp, 702 N. Oneida street, was arrested about 2:45 this morning in the 300 block of N. Oneida street after a patrolman saw her with another girl making a lot of noise and screaming. When the officer warned them to be quiet, Miss Knapp became abusive.

She was taken to the police station, charged with disorderly conduct and told to appear in court this morning. Later, when two policemen left the station, they saw her with a rock in her hand looking at the station window. They told her to drop the rock and she threw it at them, they said.

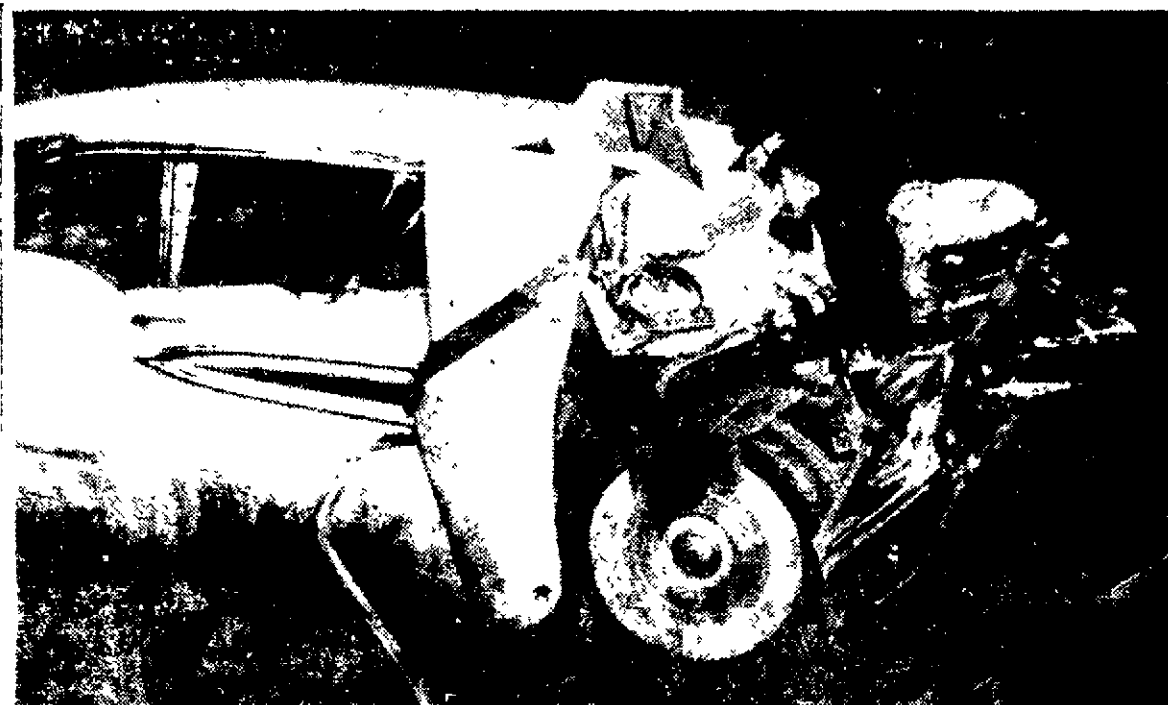

With that police lost patience and took her to the county jail for the rest of the night.

Death Was Instantaneous for Thomas G. Harrison, Jr., 34, Green Bay, when his car rammed a 7-ton concrete breaker on Highways 22-54 about six miles east of Waupaca about 2:40 Monday afternoon. # State Approves Keeping 3 Streets Out of High Level Bridge Approach

J. R. Whitman Protests Closure of S. Alton;
Board to Decide Issue at June 17 Meeting

The state highway commission approves elimination of the other two streets were there. Safety islands also would be a must, he said.

Whitman said he didn't think this was so. For himself, he said, he'd take his chances in turning off S. Alton onto the bridge approach without safety islands.

Empey expressed fear that S. Alton would become a turn-around area for drivers who decide to go back downtown or to dodge heavy traffic ahead if it was kept open and the other two closed.

If all three streets are kept from the approach, the width of the approach could be trimmed from 64 feet to between 48 and 52 feet, Empey said.

If S. Alton alone or all three of the other streets are intersecting the approach, Empey said, the board would be discussing the first time by the board, and in a subsequent conference between the board and Empey, it was pointed there probably was less reason for S. Alton court to enter the bridge approach than the other two streets.

Whitman Protests
J. R. Whitman, 114 S. Alton court, Monday protested the proposal to keep E. Alton out of the approach. He said his poll of neighbors shows three of five S. Alton residents would oppose.

Whitman told Empey and the board that a dead-end street would be created and no one likes to live on a dead-end street, he said. He said drivers will turn into the court and the dead-end and use his driveway to turn around and get out. The backing up movement, he asserted would be dangerous to children in the neighborhood.

Empey said it may be possible to build a turn-around at the eastern end of the street leaving enough of the street off street for sidewalk, a boulevard and greenery.

To keep S. Alton in the bridge approach, Empey said, would mean the approach would have to have the same width as if

Y's Men Hear Discussion of Creative Thinking

Subconscious thought is an important factor in the creative thinking process, David Smith, of the Kimberly Clark corporation personnel and creativity department, told the Y's Men's club Monday night.

"Insight is the subconscious mind at work," Smith said.

"Hypnosis is a good example of how a subconscious mind can be probed," he stated, noting that people under hypnosis are often able to recall past events in great detail.

The best way to begin solving a problem is to gather all information possible so the subconscious mind will retain data and bring it forth to the conscious mind at the proper time, Smith declared.

Smith outlined a 6-point program for solving a problem after information has been gathered. Basic approaches include speculative thinking, practical experimentation and alternate involvement and detachment on the problem at hand.

He explained that many organizations employ personnel to solve problems by creative thinking methods.

Green Bay Man Dies in Crash

Car Rams 7-Ton
Concrete Breaker
East of Waupaca

Waupaca — Thomas G. Harrison, Jr., 34, Green Bay, was killed instantly about 2:40 Monday afternoon and two construction workers were injured when Harrison's car smashed into the rear of a 7-ton concrete breaking machine.

Hospitalized at Riverside Memorial hospital with possible back injuries and fractured ribs was Earl Craig, Fairmont, Minn. Another worker, Joseph Braun, Black Creek, was treated and released.

The death was the third for Waupaca county and raised the Wisconsin traffic toll to 288 for the year compared with 316 on this date in 1957.

Harrison was traveling southwest on Highway 22-54 about six miles east of Waupaca where the highway is being rebuilt. The concrete breaker was headed in the same direction and was stopped on the highway.

Flagmen said Harrison evidently did not see them or the breaker since he didn't cut his speed before the collision.

The breaker was thrown forward 17 feet and the entire front end of Harrison's 1958 automobile was pancaked against the windshield. The motor was shoved into the front seat.

Craig and Braun were riding the breaker. Craig's condition today was reported as good.

Harrison was the division manager of Super Valu chain stores in Green Bay. He is survived by his parents, his wife, two sons and two sisters.

Sheriff Floyd Taylor and members of the county traffic patrol investigated the accident.

Welfare Group Wants Study of Health Problem

The board of directors of the Appleton Community Council has recommended a study be made to determine the feasibility of establishing a city-county health department. The resolution has been forwarded to the city council.

Such a health department already has been endorsed by the Appleton board of health, the Outagamie County Health Council and the League of Women Voters.

The board also has given approval to the formation of a joint executive committee composed of officers of the Council and the Community Fund. The two groups have been affiliated, and shared a common office for one year.

In other action, it was decided a discussion centering about the need for and method of developing a community legal aid society would be scheduled for the July board meeting.

Government Plans New Rules for Taking '60 Census

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — New rules for conducting the 1960 census are being worked out by national government officials, state government leaders have been advised.

C. D. Caparoon of the U. S. agricultural statistics office here told the natural resources committee of state agencies that a new definition of a "farm" may be worked out for that population count. The present definition is a unit of three acres of land with a gross product value of $250 a year.

Caparoon said the farm census would probably precede the general count in 1960 and take place in the fall of 1959.

Pusey Hits at Secularization

Calls Trend Away
From Religion
'Stumbling Block'

Today's trend toward secularization denotes a growing attachment to a way of life in which there is neither place nor need for religion, Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey has declared.

He called secularization a powerful world force and a "very serious stumbling block in our society" in his baccalaureate address to Harvard graduates.

The former president of Lawrence college stated "the impression of the irrelevance of religion has been mightily strengthened among thoughtful people by the shortcomings they have sometimes observed among those who would advance its cause. There have been other shortcomings from the side of religion which have aided the advance of secularism."

As examples he noted "aesthetic failings, poor music, impossible hymns, unhelpful, moralistic sermons, the mistaken notion that churches are for 'good' people rather than for sinners, or that one goes to church as a favor to God — above all, the failure of the churches to rouse themselves to cease contending among themselves — indeed, one might say to 'desecularize' themselves in order to be concerned not for their own selfish interests but, lovingly, for the whole of the world and the whole of life within it."

Two Minor Fire Calls

Paper burning in the alley behind Schlafly Hardware store, 115 W. College avenue, and a flooded oil burning furnace at the Francis Klein home, 1811 S. Jackson street, resulted in calls to firemen Monday and today. Firemen said the Schlafly call came about 8:15 Monday night and the Klein call about 6:20 this morning.

Ike Could Have Used Marshals At Little Rock

Testimony Reveals Judge Turned Down Request by Board

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The tragedy at Little Rock may have important legal consequences that were not foreseen when federal troops were used at Central High school there to enforce a court decree on the supposition that no other means was available.

Lawrence

Virgil T. Blossom, superintendent of schools at Little Rock, has just made a startling revelation in federal court. He has testified that the school board at Little Rock asked for federal marshals to enforce the court's decree and that the request was refused by Judge Ronald Davies. This fact has never before been publicly known. Sen. John C. Stennis of Mississippi, Democrat, in a speech before the Mississippi Bar association a few days ago made the point that there was no law authorizing the use of federal troops and that U. S. marshals should have been required to perform the task of enforcing the court's decree.

The Mississippi senator, who is an eminent lawyer, says that none of the conditions set forth in the law which was cited in the president's proclamation really existed in Little Rock. He adds:

Regular Forces

"There was no danger of invasion or rebellion and no indication that the president was unable with the regular forces to execute the laws of the United States. Moreover, this section requires that orders to call into the federal service members of the National Guard 'shall be issued through the governors of the states.' No order of this type was issued by the governor of Arkansas as required. Hence, the conclusion is inescapable that the calling into federal service of the National Guard of the state of Arkansas was unauthorized and contrary to statutory requirements."

On the specific use of even federal troops—not necessarily the state's National Guard—Sen. Stennis says that the resort to military force was unauthorized by law or the constitution. He says:

"There was no real attempt to try civil remedies—much less exhaust them. There was no real effort to enforce the court decree by using the U. S. marshal's office, or by augmenting his staff through a posse comitatus."

"There was no real attempt to try the injunctive process with its ever present threat of contempt proceedings. The only persons who were enjoined by the federal court, the governor and the Arkansas guard officers, readily obeyed the court mandate."

"Governmental action taken at Little Rock follows the most disturbing pattern of our time; that is, the trend toward interpretation of law in terms of expediency. This confusion of authority and initiative which led to the school segregation cases has led to the Little Rock situation.

"The present president of the United States is not a willful, nor reckless nor mischievous man. But some future president, with a less lofty regard for his post, under political pressures can well take refuge in this precedent in an attempt to rule with arbitrary power."

What the Mississippi senator said about the failure to use the U. S. marshal's office is very significant. It is backed up now by the testimony of Supt. Blossom.

The Mystery

The mystery is: Why did Judge Davies refuse to assign U. S. marshals? In many an instance of civil disturbance in past history thousands of assistant marshals have been deputized to maintain order. This is usually effective because it is a federal offense for any citizen to interfere with a U. S. marshal who is carrying out the orders of a federal court.

The federal laws today specifically forbid the use of the armed forces of the United States to enforce court orders. This is the task of U. S. marshals. If they fail, they can in some instances call on military forces to help them, but this is limited to "laws of the United States" and is not applicable to the enforcement of all court orders. The use of federal troops to enforce a court order that did not involve any federal law, especially when the U. S. marshals were not availed of, makes the Little Rock precedent unique in all history, and its legality or illegality has yet to be determined.

Juvenile Crime

The continuing and apparently growing wave of teen-age gang warfare and unprovoked crimes is beginning to wear down adult tolerance of sociological explanations for the outbreaks. Columnists George Sokolsky and Robert Ruark have sarcastically suggested that perhaps we should pity the victims as well as the instigators. Phillip Gilliam, juvenile judge from Colorado, told a group in Madison that "most delinquents are meaner than hell" and that the old adage that there is no such thing as a bad boy is "a lot of bunk."

The great majority of teen criminals — perhaps the great majority of all criminals — have come from brutal or uncaring homes. The gangs in New York are predominately made up of Negro or Puerto Rican youths, transplanted to a strange part of the country, often brought up in the alcoholic fumes of a drunken father or the moral vacuum of a wanton mother. Even when both parents are honest and virtuous there is the problem of strangeness, insecurity, loneliness. Certainly in the big cities these factors must be considered, and the efforts of welfare and other social workers to bring about happier conditions are important.

But there are other youngsters who get into trouble who come from orthodox, respected homes, who go to church and Sunday school, who get fair marks in school, are accepted by their fellows and have no more insecurity than anyone else in this shaky world. And perhaps the crimes of these youngsters can be laid directly to the namby-pamby attitudes of a society which blames all aberrations of children on the mistakes of their parents, snubs by a prom queen, or losing out for the football team. As Judge Gilliam pointed out, getting back to basic concepts of decency will help prevent the crimes that are done for a lark, to impress a real bum or simply because the youngster didn't realize it was serious.

There is no real security, or freedom either for that matter, without discipline and order and at least a general idea of the answers to simple questions. So many adults have given so many answers to the matter of youthful crime that it is little wonder that some teenagers assume they can get away with it because of the laxity of the police, the leniency of the courts and the pleas of the social workers.

So far no one has come up with a final reason as to why one youngster goes bad or why another, under the worst possible circumstances, accepts the challenge of life and pulls through. Penal institutions have rehabilitation as their chief responsibility, particularly with respect to young offenders. But the police and courts have the rest of society to think about as well. Official tolerance of serious crimes is no way to prevent more of the same.

Railroads Need Help Now

It is widely recognized that the railroads need help. Unless something is done shortly it may be necessary for the federal government to subsidize them directly or take them over and operate them as a public service.

The prospect of government operation of the railroads is almost frightening to the thousands of businessmen who depend upon the railroads for freight service. Many of them now are doing everything in their power to encourage Congress to grant relief to the carriers sufficient not only to get them straightened out financially but also to enable them to make their own way in the future.

Leaders in the railroad field believe the present troubles, of the roads would be cured if they were relieved of the great burden of controls heaped upon them by the federal and state governments. It is freely acknowledged that buses and automobiles have taken away most of their profitable passenger business, and that truck and barge lines have cut into their freight business. But the railroad men claim they could easily meet this competition if they had more freedom to manage their own affairs. They believe that the railroads are the most economical means of transporting freight across country and that they could meet all competition if they were not hampered by unnecessary regulations.

The implication in that statement is that not only the railroads are being damaged by regulation but also that the people of the nation are not getting the best out of their huge investment in railroads. There are ample reasons to believe both contentions are true.

The railroad problem has been under study by federal agencies since 1954 when President Eisenhower named an Advisory Committee on Transport Policy and Organization to review the matter. The work of this committee has been kept alive by further study and by legislation which was offered as a result of the committee's work. None of the bills was passed by either house, but findings of the committee were pretty well summarized in the "three shall nots" which were proposed as guides for the Interstate Commerce commission in fixing railroad rates. They are expressed in these words:

In the exercise of its power to prescribe just and reasonable rates, the Interstate Commerce commission shall not consider (1) the effect of such rates on the traffic of any other mode of transportation; or (2) the relation of such rates to other modes of transportation; or (3) whether such rates are any lower than necessary to meet the competition of any other mode of transportation.

The bills offered in 1956 did not get beyond the hearing stage, but for several months this year the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee under chairman Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, (D-Wash.), and the Subcommittee on Surface Transportation under chairman Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.), have been holding hearings and have prepared recommendations for the relief of the railroads.

Among the recommendations are, guaranteed loans up to $700 million to be repaid within 15 years, income tax immunity on money set aside for new equipment, approval or disapproval of rates within a state without waiting for a state commission to act, the ICC to decide when a service could be discontinued as unprofitable, tighter control of exempt agricultural products to prevent truckers from evading ICC regulations, end the loophole which permits truckers to take title to property temporarily and transport it without ICC regulation.

All of these recommendations are needed and desired by the railroads, but the heart of the bill still centers about the "three shall nots." There has been strong opposition to the adoption of these guides by the American Trucking association, the associations representing common carriers on waterways, and also from the ICC. However, after taking thousands of pages of testimony the Senate committee has offered this rule:

In a proceeding involving competition between carriers of different modes of transportation . . . the commission in determining whether a rate is lower than a reasonable minimum rate, shall consider the facts and circumstances attending the movement of the traffic by the carrier or carriers to which the rate is applicable. Rates of a carrier shall not be held up to a particular level to protect the traffic of any other mode of transportation policy declared in this act.

The railroads have approved this rule as necessary to "put the ICC back on the track" and to carry out the intent of Congress when it passed the transportation act of 1940. Both the truckers and the barge line operators have objected largely on the same ground "that the railroads want the rule so that they can, through temporary price cutting force competing truckers and water carriers out of business."

Sen. Magnuson has warned that the bill must clear the Senate in June to avoid being killed in the adjournment rush, but even in that case the strong opposition against it raises serious doubts that this particular rule will be passed.

What Others are Saying

Draft Giving Army Lame and the Halt

From The Chicago Tribune

The army's announcement that 220,000 of its 284,000 soldiers are incapable of being trained to do anything more advanced than digging ditches, swabbing floors, or polishing pots, is as timely as it is shocking. Both houses of Congress have approved military pay raises designed to attract more capable men into the services and to encourage well-trained men to stay in.

In the other services the proportion of mentally inadequate men is much lower—varying from 2 to 15 per cent. Including the army, the total is about 443,000. The army's 25 per cent affliction is attributed to the fact that it is the only service still using the draft. Not only are the draft pickings slim, but of every five men called up last year, two were rejected—usually for physical reasons.

Of the 387,000 men examined last year, only 136,000 were inducted. And of those inducted, 44,170 or one-third were released after basic training because they were unable to learn anything of value to the army.

The fact that 220,000 have been kept in even though they can't do anything more worth while than dig ditches shows what the army is up against.

Since it costs about $1,600 to induct a man and give him basic training the government has spent more than 700 million dollars trying to train untrainable men now in service. These figures should cause some further soul searching on the part of the nation's educators, but their more immediate significance is to show how useless it will be to continue the draft in the face of the higher pay program.

Higher pay is based on the correct assumption that today's services need quality not quantity. Men of technical ability are needed, who are trained or can be trained to handle the implements of a modern military machine. For the army to continue drumming the principles of kitchen police into 136,000 men a year, most of whom are of doubtful use or will get out as soon as they are able, is as ridiculous as it is wasteful.

DeGaulle's Ascendancy in France Another of History's Revolutions

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1958)

Since 1945, the entire world has been in a state of revolution. This has not only been a political revolution, the nature of which has been to move away from representative government to executive government, but it also has been a period of social and economic revolution — a movement away, in western Europe and America, from Calvinistic capitalism to socialism in a variety of forms.

This revolution has been sufficiently in process to require understanding because it influences and affects every country and the United States more than any other country.

A revolution always starts as a protest against some institution. The French revolution of 1789 was a revolt against the decaying institutions of feudalism; the Russian revolution of 1917 started as a revolt against a decadent autocracy. The Turkish revolution of 1908 which ultimately brought about Kemal's reforms was a revolt against the degrading nature of the sultanate and its demoralizing effect on the people; the Chinese revolutions of 1911, 1915, and 1925 were declarations of opposition to foreign domination over a great people. The Meiji revolution in Japan of 1868 was a revolt against the obscurantism of the Shogunate. The American revolution of 1775 comes down to the right of a people to a government of its own choice and therefore was a protest against taxation and government without representation.

And so it has gone throughout the history of man. No revolution ever is made by the masses of the people. It is either a method of an element in the ruling class to use the masses to change the form of government or the structure of governments, for instance, when the bankers and large industrialists of Germany supported Hitler with the object of overthrowing the Third Reich, or it is a product of the intellectuals as was the Bolshevik revolution of 1917.

What is the nature of the De Gaulle revolution? It really started with a military coup d'etat in Algeria in the course of which a large section of the army manifested its protest against a decaying parliamentary system of government which since 1946 was steadily leading France to suicide. If the army and navy and air force joined together, it could have produced a civil war in France which might have set the world on fire. We are not yet free from this danger.

Charles De Gaulle entered politics to hold France in tutelage for a short period during which he might rewrite the constitution, destroy multiple parties, eliminate proportional representation and restore a responsible parliamentary system of government in which the executive and legislative branches of government are separated, as they are in the United States.

There is no record in history of a people being held in tutelage except by a dictatorial political party such as the Kuomintang in China, the communists in Russia, or by a dictatorial individual such as Franco in Spain. De Gaulle therefore offers to do something new and different for which he gives himself the short period of six months.

Many Pressures
De Gaulle faces five pressures which at this moment seem insuperable. Pressure No. 1 is from the right, from those who would reject par-

On Saturday evening next, the distinguished artists, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Miller, supported by their superb combination, will appear at Bertschy Hall and present their intensely interesting domestic drama in four acts, entitled "Over the Hill to the Poor House," dramatized from Will Carleton's poem of that name. Mr. A. O. Miller made the dramatization.

The special county board committee, appointed to investigate the feasibility of securing funds from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for county construction work, met at the courthouse, T. H. Ryan, Appleton, was chairman of the committee.

Robert Rule, Appleton High school senior, who graduated the previous week left behind a record seldom made by a high school athlete. While wearing the colors of Appleton high, "Bobby" played on five championship teams, three title winning basketball teams and two track teams. ## Geo. M. Smith Expects To Give Knowles Fight

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — State politics pot-pourri:
George M. Smith, knocked off the Republican ticket by Warren P. Knowles in the primary election four years ago, evidently intends to make a try to regain the office of lieutenant governor he held for three terms. It is said that he was encouraged by friends to make the comeback on the basis of Knowles' showing as a candidate for the senate nomination in the primary of last year.

Gerald Flynn of Racine does not yet have the nomination for congressman assured by first district Democrats. There is continuing talk of a candidacy announcement by Sverre Roang of Edgerton, who has been teetering on the verge for some months.
U. W. ON SPOT

Some critics might find it ironically suggestive that the two leading news developments on the University of Wisconsin campus last week were the extraordinary demand of a big committee of students for more "challenging" academic standards at the school, and the university administration's new plan for an elaborate real estate enterprise under the school's auspices.

Supreme Court Justice Thomas E. Fairchild, unlike his colleagues, does not make his home in Madison. He commutes from Milwaukee, where he lived before his election to the court. He has a precedent in the practice of the late Justice Fritz who lived in Milwaukee during several decades of service on the court in Madison.

Assemblyman Dennis Danielson of Eau Claire, passed up by Gov. Thomson recently as a candidate for his home county judgeship, is destined for a secondary leadership role in the 1959 legislature, if he returns and the Republicans maintain their control of that house.

In a decision that was admittedly difficult for him, Thomson gave the judgeship to Connor Hanson, Danielson's senior in age, experience and public service. Hanson once made a valiant but unsuccessful run for congressman in the ninth district.

J. D. Semrad, an old time Progressive who is running for state senator in Sauk county on the Democratic ticket, will pitch his campaign on attacking the administration of the state department of taxation. He is a real estate appraiser and has handled some reassessments for the state and for localities.

CRITICISM ANNOYING

Republican state administration leaders are understandably annoyed by the announcement of some Democratic candidates for state office that they propose more vigilance on the issue of natural gas rate regulation. It is hard to conceive how Gov. Thomson, Atty. Gen. Honeck and the public service commission could have been more active on behalf of the bills for regulation in Washington. They have spent more time and energy on the question in the last four years than on any other single question that has occupied them.

GOP Chairman Claude Jasper is working on the job of meshing the voluntary campaign machinery that developed for Roland Steinle with the state GOP organization. As the endorsed candidate of the Republican convention for the senatorial nomination, Steinle now has the backing of that organization in his campaign for the primary election — in which he is unlikely to have important opposition.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

'It is like the travel man said, Roscoe? . . . Do you relive the gloriously happy days of our vacation trip every time you make a payment on it? . . .'

In the Michael Todd Production of "Around the World in 80 Days," which opens Wednesday at the Viking theater, the transcontinental train of 1872 stops for all sorts of things. Leaning out of the train window to see if it's an Indian raid, stampeding buffalo herd or washed out bridge are the actor-passengers in the movie version of the famous Jules Verne classic. The first four have leads in the movie, beginning with David Niven, right, Shirley MacLaine, the great Mexican comedian Cantiflas and Robert Newton.

'Around World' Loaded With Acting Talent

Michael Todd Movie Opening at Viking Theater Wednesday

The Academy award winning Michael Todd spectacle, "Around the World in 80 Days," has more than its fame to attract moviegoers when the picture opens Wednesday at the Viking theater.

It's loaded with talent. Not just present day headline stars, but many of the oldtimers. Buster Keaton plays the part of the train conductor on the transcontinental train that carries the globetrotting Phileas Fogg on part of his hectic, adventurous trip around the world in 1872. Andy Devine is the first mate on a sidewheeler that's

Committee to Consider Boat Landing Plans

Area Outdoor Clubs Back Permanent State Park Structure

Final plans for small boat landing facilities to be built as the first permanent structure at High Cliff State Forest park will captained by Jack Oakie and has Victor McLaglen as the helmsman. Col. Tim McCoy, western hero of the 1920s, plays the role of a dashing cavalry officer.

Most of the greats have bit parts that fit into the various scenes as the hero of the piece, David Niven is the lead role of Fogg, flits from place to place in his travels.

Big Names
Fernandel, the great French star, is seen as a taxi cab driver; Charles Boyer plays the part of a ticket seller in a travel agency; famed English comedian, Bea Lillie, has the part of a leader of a reforming religious group.

In a Barbary coast scene Marlene Dietrich tries to entice the hero in a waterfront saloon where Frank Sinatra plays the piano. George Raft is the bouncer and Red Skelton portrays a drunk.

The line-up of these bit part players lives up to the movie term "stupendous." It reads like a theater honor roll, with so many important names that they are credited on the screen alphabetically: Joe E. Brown, Martine Carol, John Carradine, Charles Coburn, Melville Cooper, Noel Coward, Reginald Denny, Luis Miguel Dominguez, Sir John Gielgud, Hermione Gingold, Jose Greco, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Trevor Howard, Glynys Johns, Evelyn Keyes, Peter Lorre, Edmund Lowe, A. E. Matthews, John Mills, Alan Mowbray, Robert Morley, Gilbert Roland, Cesar Romero and Basil Sydney.

There are four leading roles in this movie version of the Jules Verne classic which tells how a bold Englishman not only set a world travel record but also managed to get into a peck of trouble.

Besides David Niven in the role of Phileas Fogg, there is Cantiflas, the famed Mexican comedian, in the role of his servant, Robert Newton as the Scotland Yard detective and Shirley MacLaine, who plays an Indian princess. These are the four who take the trip.

be submitted to the area executive committee in charge of the project Wednesday night in Appleton.

The plans come out of the forest and park division of the state conservation department.

Members of the department will present them at the 7:30 meeting in the offices of the Home Mutual Insurance company.

Spearheading the project are area conservation and outdoor clubs. The groups are members of the High Cliff Forest Park association. Since the state does not have funds for the boat landing, these clubs have agreed to undertake the financing.

The High Cliff boat landing group also will complete its committee organization and fund-raising plans Wednesday night. Richard Verbeten, Kimbly, is chairman of the fund-raising committee and Clemp McHugh, Appleton, is treasurer.

The boat landing ramp and pier together with adequate parking facilities is planned for the northern end of the present temporary picnic ground along the lower cliff road. The cost of the project is estimated at $4,000.

Judge Schmiede to Talk at Traffic Court Conference

Appleton Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede will be one of the main speakers Wednesday at the Wisconsin Traffic Court conference at Delavan.

The conference is presented by the University of Wisconsin Law School, the Wisconsin board of criminal court judges and the state bar association. Schmiede will talk on the need for uniform accident reports and will serve as moderator at the afternoon session.

Judge Schmiede is a member of the state judicial council which will conduct a panel discussion on the proposed plan for reorganization of the Wisconsin court system Friday before the state bar association.

Group Chooses Disabled Dad Of '58 in U.S.

Lancaster, Pa. — Defeat? That's a word for the chicken-hearted. Not for Jack Cooke.

Six years ago Jack was 25 and life was good to him. Through with the navy and college, he married and settled down to a pleasant life with a job in the family business.

Cooke

Then tragedy struck. Jack became ill and saw two of everything instead of one. Doctors told him he had multiple sclerosis—an incurable disease. That was in 1952.
It would have been easy to accept defeat. Jack didn't. He fought and in the end lived a life which doctors call spiritual therapy.
National Choice
He has been chosen as the nation's disabled working father of the year. Announcement here established by his grandfather the choice was made yesterday by the National Father's Day committee in New York. "One of these days the cause Jack, now 31, lives with his wife, June, and their two children, Jack, Jr., nine, and Madelon, six, in nearby Columbia. To do just to sit around feeling sorry for myself. No one should Madelon Cooke, he runs a pet do that."

Withhold Sentence on Disorderly Charge

Patrick Sullivan, 32, no permanent address, pleaded guilty today in municipal court of creating a disturbance in Appleton Sunday.

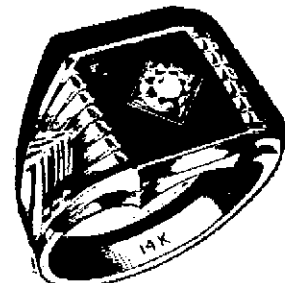

Sentence was withheld on condition Sullivan voluntarily goes to Winnebago state hospital for treatment. Sullivan has a long record of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Police said Sullivan Sunday threatened to take his own life.

pleton's Fifteenth ward, said knowing the technicality of the referendum and the routing of a county trunk over the new bridge shouldn't change the basic situation. There is no choice of locations, he added.

The board appeared to be approaching a vote shortly before noon when Supv. Paul Kostka, Little Chute, asked adjournment.

School Board Seeks Meeting on Erb Park

Wants to Discuss Proposal for Football Field for Junior High

The board of education Monday night agreed—for the second time—to seek a meeting with the park board to discuss use of the southeast corner of Erb park for a football field.

The decision came after Neil Lunenschloss, principal of Roosevelt Junior High school, explained his proposal. The board earlier had voted to seek such a meeting and later rescinded its action pending the explanation by Lunenschloss.

The football field, as visualized by Lunenschloss, would run diagonally northeast and southwest. The southernmost corner would begin at the south side of Roosevelt street and the northernmost corner would come within about 15 feet of the tennis courts. The plan calls for closing Roosevelt street between N. Drew and N. Durkee streets.

Would Cut Trees
Construction of the field would make it necessary to cut down a number of trees, but Lunenschloss said he did not know the exact number. He said larger trees around the outer edge of the park and felt trees around the outer edge of the park would not have to be cut.

Lunenschloss said he didn't want to take away the beauty of the park and felt trees around the perimeter would still leave the area attractive.

The principal thought some compromise should be reached that would not destroy the esthetic value of the park but would make the area more useful.

As many as 120 students use the school recreation area at one time during certain periods of the year, he said, and the present school site is not large enough. He added that too much use had packed the present football field to a degree of hardness not consistent with safety.

Other Uses
Roland Winter, physical education instructor at the school, claimed putting the field in the park would add to the park's usefulness. People could use the area as a playground when picnicking. It would not be restricted to use by the school, he said. The area also could be utilized for other sports, he added.

Questioned on who should pay for construction of the field and who would have jurisdiction over it, Lunenschloss said he hadn't thought about it. He said it would make little difference as long as the school could use it during school hours.

Okay Insurance
In other action, the board agreed to buy builder's risk insurance for the new Huntley elementary school from Merchants and Businessmen's Mutual and Employer's Mutual Insurance companies. Coverage will total $895,000, with Merchants and Businessmen's Mutual getting most of the coverage.

The decision was made on the recommendation of the board's insurance counselor, J. L. Swartout, Milwaukee. The board authorized Swartout to prepare data on cost of converting the present policy of insuring each building individually to a multiple coverage plan. The insurance counselor advocated the change and said it could save the board from 33 to 35 per cent in premiums and give greater coverage.

Decision on a roofing contractor for the Huntley school was referred to the business affairs committee with the power to act. The board earlier had rejected an Oshkosh roofing firm which was low bidder to the Hoffman company.

This is the tree-covered area at the southeast corner of Erb park which has been proposed as the site of a football field for Roosevelt Junior High school. The board of education Monday agreed to seek a meeting with the park board to discuss the suggestion of Neil Lunenschloss, Roosevelt principal. Under the plan, Roosevelt street would be vacated between N. Drew and N. Durkee streets and many of the park trees and other shrubbery would be cut. Many of the trees were planted 16 years ago. Lunenschloss said he didn't know how many trees would have to come out, but felt that if trees were left around the perimeter, the area still would be attractive. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Supervisors Thresh Over Bridge, Shy Away From $500,000 Bond Issue

Outagamie county supervisors gave every indication this morning of shying away from a bond issue to furnish the county's share of the proposed $1.8 million College-to-Candee high level bridge.

Although the supervisors did not get around to voting on authorizing the bond issue and its sale, 1 1/2 hours of discussion indicated strong opposition. The opposition did not seem to be against the bridge, but rather the way in which the board had avoided a referendum and giving the state the county's money before construction is begun.

ny, which has the general contract.

The Hoffman company then submitted other subcontractors, indicating the school board would have to pay the difference between the Oshkosh firm's bid and the one they selected.

More State Aid
Director of Business Affairs William R. Knuth reported $6,137 in additional state aids has been received. The added aid came because of the increase in enrollment since District 10 in the town of Grand Chute was attached to the city system.

The board also learned it will receive $2,155 credit from the general contractor on the Huntley school because of a favorable price on hardware bids. Bids on hardware are made directly to the architect and the low bid was less than the general contractor had included for that purpose.

Supt. of Schools John P. Mann reported resignation of two teachers and hiring three more. Those resigning are Mrs. Joan Rather, elementary teacher at Lincoln school, and Miss Ruth Fieting, teacher at Wilson Junior high. Hired were an elementary art coordinator, a girls' physical education teacher for Roosevelt and an elementary teacher.

Mann recommended and the board approved four courses at Lawrence college to be approved for summer school credit if taken by teachers. Included are a study of the novel, a course in recent development in physical sciences, a course on Shakespeare and an American history course. The classes are held in the evening.

The board authorized, at Mann's request, spending $4,610 over the budgeted amount for books and supplies for new primary classrooms to be added next year. He said the classes will be for first graders who normally would have gone to parochial schools. Because of space problems, they are being sent to public schools.

Placing of signs forbidding high school students or adults from playing baseball on the Washington school playground was approved. Nearby property owners have complained their property has been damaged when balls were hit or thrown off the playground.

The board last month indicated it favored a $400,000 bond issue and taking $200,000 from the county's senile hospital bond fund and insurance fund.

However, Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer told the board today that a $500,000 bond issue, using the hospital fund only to make up the county's $600,000 bridge cost share, might be wiser.

Money Needs
Fulcer reminded the board that airport development will cost the county money — estimated at about $90,000, a city-county health department has been recommended — with no cost estimated, a child guidance clinic has been requested — with $25,000 asked from the county, possible county contribution to a UW extension in the county has been discussed — with no cost estimate although a building could be involved, development of Plamann park is planned for the near future — with no cost estimate, golfers have requested a county course — with no cost estimate, and some funds will have to be spent sooner or later for the combined sanatorium-aged home planned at River-view sanatorium.

Fulcer pointed out the board might wish to bond for more to keep its funds more available. Discussion centered on a $500,000 bond issue. The county has more than $310,000 in its insurance fund, $421,551 in its contingent fund and $115,000 in its hospital bond issue, which has matured. This totals over $846,000 in relatively liquid assets.

Pelton Objects
Supv. Glenn Pelton, Appleton's Twelfth ward, told the board he opposed the bond issue because "the last board meeting created a county trunk highway system over the bridge without a representation of traffic need, which I would think was necessary. This was done only on the basis of circumventing the state law requiring a referendum to give this act (of bonding) the appearance of legality."

"I think that government administration—most certainly on the county level—should be kept on a clean basis. This is not a strictly clean operation," Pelton declared.

Pelton referred to the county board's decision to place the John street bridge, N. Meade street, E. College avenue and N. Lawe street, a distance of 1.6 miles, on the county trunk system in order to avoid a referendum on the bond issue. If the bridge was not on the county trunk system, a referendum must be held.

Referendum Possible
However, Corp. Counsel Raymond Dohr explained, as he did last month, that county voters have 30 days after passage of the bond resolution to circulate a petition, get 2,400 signatures and request a referendum.

Highway Committee Chairman Supv. Fred Krause, Appleton's Thirteenth ward, asked Pelton if he thought a bridge was needed at E. John street.

"I'm not debating that or the location — we need a bridge somewhere. There is merit in about it," demanded Supv. Joseph Weyers, Freedom.

No Need?
"The trouble is that shouldn't be on a county trunk," Esler declared, "because the cars aren't going anywhere or coming from anywhere."

Bridge Backing
"The regional planning group backs the location, the state backed the location, the city hours isn't standing still," asked replacement of the E. John street bridge," Krause declared, adding that every survey indicated that was the throat and I don't like it," Esler place to put a high level bridge.

Supv. Sylvester Esler, Appleton's Eighteenth ward, demanded of Krause, "Why didn't you tell us that route had to be on the county trunk system two years ago when all state and the this talk started? The first time I heard about it was just a day or two ago."

Krause replied that the Kimberly-Little Chute community all those people help pay for bridge was a complete relocation of a county trunk.

"Come right out and tell Es-

Girls' Softball Team Defeats Menasha Squad

5-Team League to Open Competition Here Friday Night

Kaukauna — The Girls' Softball team sponsored by the recreation department won its second game in as many outings over the weekend by defeating a Menasha Girls' team 21 to 7.

The winners sewed up the game in the first two innings, scoring three tallies in the first and nine in the second innings. Kaukauna concluded its scoring with four runs in the fifth and five more in the sixth.

The losers scored four runs in the third inning, two in the fifth and one in the sixth. ## New Plant to Cut Pollution Nearly Ready to Start

Wisconsin Rapids — Nearing start-up here is the $500,000 experimental plant that Consolidated Water Power and Paper company has been building since early last year primarily as a stream improvement measure.

The plant is designed to cover pulping chemicals and heat from spent liquor. It uses a process designed by Western Precipitation corporation and is the first such commercial installation.

If the new plant performs as hoped for, Consolidated expects to expand the capacity to process all recoverable spent sulphite liquor and semi-chemical liquor from the entire Wisconsin Rapids mill and thus stop discharging the spent liquors into the Wisconsin river.

Authorities said the men were inspecting trout streams when the plane's engine stalled. The plane was demolished.

Douglas Winters, Shawano city attorney, and Elbert Dineo, manager of the Shawano airport, who was piloting the plane, were hospitalized here. Hospital aids said their condition was fair.

Christie, mowing the lawn for Ervin Eick in rural Nichols, was carrying gasoline to the mower when the gasoline started to burn.

Christie dropped the can and kicked it against a concrete silo and stamped out the grass fire that was started.

Although his clothes did not ignite, he suffered burns on his right leg from the ankle to the knee. He has been treated at Clintonville Community hospital since Friday morning.

A short business meeting followed by officer installation will be held and then the picnic will get underway. Various games and activities will be planned by the juvenile leaders.

Clubs to Back Singler Being Established

Green Bay — A group of 28 Democrats, mostly from Brown and Outagamie counties, met in Green Bay Monday in a preliminary session to form a district-wide campaign committee for Milo Singler, Shiocton, Eighth district congressional candidate.

Singler, who opposed Rep. John Byrnes in 1956, faces a primary contest with Green Bay's Mayor Otto Rachels. Rachels has no history of activity in Democratic ranks; he was a Republican candidate for the state senatorial nomination in 1952.

Plans were made to form Singler campaign clubs in all nine counties of the Eighth district and to set up a district-wide organization with as many "name" Democrats as possible. Much of this work is expected to be done at the state party convention in LaCrosse this weekend.

In prepared comments for the meeting, Singler criticized Byrnes for voting against the Alaskan statehood bill. He stated that with American prestige abroad slipping, "we cannot allow our own people on our Alaskan frontier to be faced with an indefinite continuation of second-class citizenship."

Byrnes earlier explained that his vote against Alaskan statehood was because he favored statehood for both Alaska and Hawaii and because Democrats were blocking the Hawaii bill.

Who Wants to Vote? Not Women Of Switzerland

Lucerne, Switzerland—A committee of women was organized today to oppose—and listen to this, men—the granting of voting rights to women.

Switzerland is the last country in Europe where only men can vote. The government wants to give women voting privileges. There'll be a referendum come autumn.

And so some of the good housewives got together and cooked up a propaganda campaign against this half baked notion of votes for women.

Two of the main ingredients: if women vote like their husbands their ballots aren't needed anyway. If they vote against their husbands their ballots cancel each other.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Care of Acne

A mother writes: I fear my daughter has acne. We have tried numerous remedies, but nothing seems to help. Will you advise us?

Here is the answer, and it concerns every girl with the problem. Acne must be treated by a physician. Contrary to some opinion, there is no assurance that you will outgrow it. Self-dosing only leads to increased infection and scarring.

In caring for acne, a doctor usually administers treatment in his office. He also prescribes these home steps:

- 1—Wash your face four times daily
- 2—Do not touch your face, except when under treatment
- 3—Get plenty of sleep, exercise and fresh air
- 4—Eat three balanced meals daily, being temperate about sweets and fats
- 5—Try not to be sensitive about the condition or let anything else ruffle your features. For jitters of any sort antagonize acne.

Never fear, improvement will come once you see a doctor and follow his advice.

In Good Taste Tips Out of Question in This Case

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I work in a beauty salon and when we are not busy one or the other of the girls with whom I work will ask me to set her hair or do her nails, etc., which I am glad to do. I am often offered a tip for doing this and I would like to know if it would be proper for me to accept it. Some of the girls think I should but it does not seem right to me to accept tips for doing favors for my co-workers.

Answer: I agree with you that it would not be right to accept tips from your co-workers for such favors. When occasion arises they return these favors by doing the same for you.

Best to Answer

Dear Mrs. Post: I was married two weeks ago and at that time received a number of telegrams from people I haven't seen for several years. Some were sent by distant relatives and others by former neighbors who knew me as a child. I would like to know if I should acknowledge these telegrams?

Answer: Although they don't demand an answer as a present does, it is certainly better manners to write a few words thanking them for their kind telegrams.

Reception Card

Dear Mrs. Post: Where is the reception card placed when sent with a wedding invitation?

Answer: When the invitation is folded to fit the envelope, the reception card is laid in the fold. When the invitation fits as it is, the card is put on top of the engraved sheet.

Quick Action Goal for Special Session Bills

both houses informed him that public hearings would be held Thursday at 10 a.m.

Angers Democrats

Thomson stirred up the Democrats over the weekend when he said Republican leaders had agreed not to introduce any "extraneous" resolutions during the session. These, the governor said, served only to delay the business for which the session was called and postponed relief for persons in need of jobless benefits or public assistance.

"Such resolutions serve no useful purpose and are introduced primarily to create personal political publicity for the author or legislator introducing them," Thomson said. "Under the present circumstances of emergency, the introduction of such resolutions would be the worst kind of political irresponsibility."

Problem for Democrats

State Sen. Gaylord Nelson, Madison Democrat and veteran legislator who is Thomson's opponent for governor, has urged the governor to call a special session on each of the issues included in the session call. The Democrats face the prospect of being accused of delaying anti-recession measures.

benefit of the free world," he said.

"Only in this way shall we prevent our military defense being outflanked on the economic front."

Eisenhower, in his brief introductory remarks, said Macmillan "is respected and admired in all the countries of the world that are freely permitted to know the facts of today's world and personalities," and added:

"Even in those countries beyond the forbidding wall of censorship, where freedom is out of reach of the people, he is recognized as a man of integrity, courage and foresight, who devotes his life to working for peace with justice."

Presiding over the ceremony was the president's brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the university.

if they do anything which might lengthen the session.

Republicans, in order to speed the session business and keep the Democrats in line, will have to suspend the rules fairly frequently. This requires a two-thirds vote. Republican leadership could be in trouble if mavericks in their party cross over and join the Democrats in opposing rules suspension. The Republican majority in both houses is two-thirds.

Working on Message

The governor is reported to be working on the customary special session message which he will probably deliver before a joint session. In it he is expected to ask the legislature to establish municipal development authorities which would be empowered to condemn land for slum clearance projects approved by municipal legislative bodies. Madison and Milwaukee officials consider this proposal sufficient to satisfy federal objections to Wisconsin laws governing condemnation for urban renewal projects.

Change the one-year residency requirement for persons receiving public assistance to make relief available to Wisconsin residents who have not established eligibility for this aid in other states.

Extend unemployment benefits temporarily from 26 to 39 weeks and increase the maximum jobless rate from $38 to $42 a week.

Confirm interim appointments he has made since the end of the legislature's adjourned session last October.

Airline Pilot Says He Dived To Miss Crash

St. Louis—A—An American Airlines pilot said he was forced to dive his airliner yesterday when an unidentified military plane bore down on it.

The DC-7 airliner had 48 passengers and five crewmen aboard.

Four passengers and two stewardesses were taken to a hospital's office after the plane landed at municipal airport but were not thought to be seriously injured. They apparently were thrown to the floor when the plane dived.

Capt. Don Regan of Chicago said he was flying over St. Louis, Ill., about 35 miles northeast of St. Louis, when the other plane, which he said

Reds Hint at Spy Treatment For Army Men

Forced Landing Behind Iron Curtain Seen as Espionage

BY SEYMOUR TOPPING

Berlin—A—The East German Communists hinted today that nine U. S. army men arrested after their helicopter made a forced landing behind the iron curtain might be treated as spies.

The East German army newspaper Die Volksarmee said that Maj. James R. Zeller, Mount Joy, Pa., "and his inquisitive team have learned we will not tolerate that our borders be overflown boldly to carry on espionage."

"The air space over our territory is our air space and flying spies will be treated as such," the newspaper said.

American officials say the U. S. Helicopter, belonging to the 3rd armored division in West Germany, got lost in a thunderstorm Saturday, strayed over the East German frontier and ran out of fuel.

Want Talks

The East German regime last night called on the United States to open direct talks with it to obtain the release of the Americans.

The United States insists on dealing with the Russians on such matters since it does not recognize the East German government as a legal government. Even the "de facto" recognition inherent in dealing with the East Germans on the fliers would be a major political victory for the Reds.

Despite the statement of the East Germans and a similar statement from the Russian embassy in East Berlin, the U. S. army persisted in seeking release of the men through the Russian army garrison in East Germany.

Contacts are being made by the American military mission at Potsdam, a liaison group with the Russian army set up under a postwar agreement.

looked like a C-47 trainer, approached from the left. Regan said the planes seemed to be on a collision course so he dived the airliner.

A Civil Aeronautics administration officer said the incident was being investigated.

Survivors of Heart Attack Have Chance for Long Life

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Mr. Molner: Will you help my relative feel that his life is not over just because he had an acute coronary occlusion? He has a good doctor but needs someone to give him reason to hope.—Mrs. M.K."

heart attacks—but it is just as true that some of us do not survive pneumonia, or being shot, or hit by a car, or what-ever.

Danger Period
When a heart attack strikes, it is indeed a time of danger. The patient must be kept utterly quiet, and as calm as possible. The doctor must be called without delay. Oxygen and certain drugs may be required. In any case, absolute rest and quiet—often hospitalization and no visitors at first—is just about normal procedure.

What has happened? A thrombus has clogged the artery (or one of its branches) which feeds the heart muscle itself. The muscle is starved for blood and hence can do its work only with great difficulty.

But if you get over the first attack, what next? True, a portion of the heart muscle will be injured, but the rest of the muscle remains healthy.

Healing Takes Time
Nature itself will help. Smaller blood vessels will gradually enlarge, to bring the total flow of blood back toward normal. This takes time. While it is happening, the heart must be required to do as little work as possible—hence the substantial period of rest in bed, and a sharp limit on the number of visitors. The heart must be kept at a minimum level of exertion until the blood flow has come back to a suitable volume. This ordinarily takes several weeks.

It goes without saying that the heart, having suffered some permanent damage, won't be quite "as good as new."

While it is somewhat (often only slightly) impaired, the human heart to begin with has about 30 times the muscular strength that it needs for minimum purposes. That is why such a large majority of heart attack victims get back on their feet, go back to their regular jobs, and live long lives after ward.

The doctor is going to warn all such patients, when they have recovered, not to indulge in strenuous exercise that they aren't used to, not to try to stay up all night and still go to work at 8 a.m. But that sort of abuse would run anybody out.

It's doubtless wise to curtail or stop smoking, to keep the weight normal. Medicines may or very often may not be needed. Give up after a heart attack? Certainly not! The idea of giving up may, indeed, destroy the chances of recovery.

A very good friend of mine who is a heart specialist often tells the story about his mother who had a heart attack at the age of 43 and died of other causes at the age of 89!

Time For Doctor
"Dear Dr. Molner: When I move my bowels I see mucus and blood. I've been bleeding three months. Everyone is telling me it is change of life. I'm ashamed to go to the doctor.—L.G.M."

Shame on "everyone" for giving such false and dangerous

Albermarle Paper Plans Debenture Offer to Holders

Washington — Albermarle Paper Manufacturing company plans to offer to common stock holders $3,500,000 of 3 1/2 per cent convertible subordinated debentures, due 1978.

In a registration statement filed with the securities and exchange commission, the Richmond, Va., concern proposed to offer stockholders $100 of debentures for each 20 shares of stock held June 20. Scott and Stringfellow of Richmond is to be principle underwriter for the issue.

Besides the debentures, Albermarle and two of its subsidiaries—Halifax Paper company, Inc., and Seaboard Manufacturing corporation — have agreed to sell privately to two insurance companies $10.5 million of new first mortgage bonds. Proceeds of the bond sale will be used mainly to refund $8,500,000 of outstanding first mortgage 4 1/2 per cent bonds. The company also has obtained a $1 million bank loan commitment.

Remaining proceeds from all of these issues will be used to finance the purchase of a new $8,500,000 paper machine and other facilities at Halifax Paper's mills in Roanoke Rapids, N. C.

information. Change of life has nothing at all to do with that. Rectal bleeding. It might be severe colitis. It might be (in part) hemorrhoids. It might be quite a number of things, some readily curable and some of the utmost danger, such as cancer. Go at once to your doctor; there is no reason to be ashamed, and every possible reason to have treatment at once. Don't delay another day. (Copyright, 1958)

Junior High Group To Hear Architect

Recommendation to Follow Study Of Opinions on 5 Alternatives

Neenah — The lay committee studying means of providing adequate junior high school facilities will hear a professional architect's opinions on five separate proposals next Wednesday evening.

Fred Kramer of Perkins and Will, Chicago school architects, will submit to the committee detailed estimates of each of the five alternatives developed by the committee last winter. Kramer and his staff have been studying the proposals since late February.

Arthur Hedlund, chairman of the lay committee, said today that his group would study Kramer's opinions and form a recommendation regarding one of the five alternatives.

If Kramer's report is accepted by the committee, it is expected that a recommendation would follow in short order. It is also possible, Hedlund said, that Kramer will be asked to provide additional information. In this case a positive recommendation from the committee might be many weeks distant.

Only Supply Opinions

The architect is merely to supply professional opinions, not to make a recommendation, Hedlund said.

The five alternatives submitted to the architect's judgment are:

- To build a 1,250 student building for seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils; take the ninth grade students out of the high school, and abandon the Kimberly Junior High school.
- To remodel and add to the Kimberly school to provide a fully modern school for 750 pupils (seventh and eighth graders only).
- To remodel the Kimberly school only to meet industrial commission requirements and build a new 450 pupil building.
- To build a new 750 pupil building for seventh and eighth graders only and abandon the Kimberly school.
- To remodel the Kimberly school only to meet industrial commission requirements and conduct only eighth grade classes there; conduct seventh grade classes in the city's seven elementary schools.

200 Attend Holstein Group 'Twilight Show'

Grading Dairy Cows for Meat Purposes Demonstrated at Farm Near Allenville

Oshkosh — Approximately 200 persons took part in the annual twilight show of the Winnebago county Holstein Breeders association at the Allen brothers farm at Allenville.

Purpose of the show is to demonstrate progress made by a Holstein breeder over the years and this year's show recognized Harry O. Allen and his two sons, John and Peter, who now operate the farm.

Among things observed were the 36-cow herd which averaged 12,000 pounds of milk and 417 pounds of butterfat on its last DHIA test, the remodeling of the barn and the calf barn, a barn cleaner, hay drier and an up-to-date milk house with bulk cooler.

The program, which followed the tour, centered on the grading of dairy cows for meat purposes since a fourth to a third of a herd each year on the average is sold for meat purposes because of age or other factors.

Teach Meat Grades

Purpose of the demonstration was to teach the grades of dairy cows for meat purposes and how they might fit an animal.

Discussing this was Ray Steidl, field representative of Equity Livestock Sales of Milwaukee, assisted by "Mac" McDonald of the firms branch yard at Ripon who demonstrated the vealing of calves.

Those present then judged the herd for grades of meat and the top two winners in each division won prizes of cheddar cheese.

Junior division winners were David Luft of Oshkosh and Gene Erdman of Winnebago. Women's division winners were Mrs. George Kafer of Eureka and Mrs. Samuel Roth of Oshkosh.

The program ended with a dairy lunch at the Allenville Grange hall sponsored by the breeders association.

A trial date was set by the circuit judge and later in the day Merrill returned to change his previous innocent plea to guilty. He had been on parole since February from the state reformatory at Green Bay where he was serving a 1 to 5 year term for the robbery of an Oshkosh blind man, Sheldon Clements, in Menasha in 1956.

8th Grade Algebra May Be Taught in Neenah

Committee Recommends New System for Brighter Students in Grades 7-12

Neenah — Eighth graders may be taught algebra in the Neenah Junior High school system by a year from September according to a recommendation made by a special school committee on mathematics improvement.

The new system, recommended but not yet adopted, would have a select group of seventh graders next fall designated as the "algebra stream." This group would complete seventh and eighth grade arithmetic courses in the seventh grade.

The following year they would study high school freshman algebra. By the 1960-61 school year, when these children are freshmen in high school, they would be learning plane and solid geometry. As sophomores they would study advanced algebra.

In their junior year they would take trigonometry and analytical geometry, a college course. In their senior year they would be taking college algebra and one semester of calculus.

Continue Present Plan

The regular math program would be continued for average students.

Other recommendations of the special committee, set up last fall by Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes, are:

That teachers become acquainted with the arithmetic taught in the grade both above and below their own;

That grade level standards be used in evaluating a child's progress;

That students who show a particular ability in arithmetic be moved along faster in that subject; and

That the testing program be improved upon as an aid to determining the more capable math students.

Members of the committee studying math improvements are Mennes, chairman; Harley Borgen, high school principal; Miss Mary E. Willis, elementary supervisor; Carl Noble, match specialist for the Kimberly-Clark corporation; Ross Wilcox, research and development chief for the Marathon division of American Can company and school board member-elect; Andrew Berry, mathematics chairman of Lawrence college, and 10 teachers.

The teachers are Miss Cecilia Adams, Miss Phyllis Furman, Miss Julia Cain, Miss Evelyn Van Beek, Albert Goerlitz, Miss Thofa Anderson, Harvey Leaman, Miss Lela Raine, Miss Helen Hughes and Charles Shepherd, 8

News & Views of Twin City Business

Shown Here Is A Sketch of a typical addition to a home that can be done conveniently and inexpensively by the remodeling division of the E & R Construction Company, Neenah. If any Fox Cities homeowner is interested in finding out the details of a home improvement job at no obligation, he may call the company at PA 2-6466 or stop in at E & R's offices on Highway 41, north of Neenah, near the viaduct. The company now has financing available for all home improvements, including activities room, kitchen, bath, garage, bedroom, dining room and other additions.

New Financing Terms Available For Home Improvements

Neenah — The E & R Construction Company, Highway 41, has new financing terms "for the asking" now on all home improvements, the company has announced.

The terms, calling for only 5% down and 36 months to pay, can make an area homeowner's improvement dreams a reality. As an example, the company points out, a 12' by 14' all purpose room can be constructed for only $95 down payment and $57.50 per month. The room could be used as a bedroom, activities room, den or dining room.

A new kitchen costing $800 could be built for only $40 down and $25.56 per month. Terms are attractive and E & R prices are also attractive.

The activities room mentioned above sells for $1895 complete and includes the following: 16' by 8' concrete footing; 8" concrete block wall 48" below grade; insulated crawl space; vapor barrier over ground; 3 large windows with storm and screen; completely insulated and electrical wiring.

Also included are heating connections, sheet-rock or plaster walls, oak trim and door; asphalt roofing; asphalt tile floors; written warranty and skilled, progressive workmanship by the Valley's largest home builders.

Area home owners should check this outstanding single car garage buy, too. E & R will build a 12' by 24' garage for only $795. That includes a $40 down payment with payments of $25.95 per month. The price includes 4" reinforced concrete slab, 2 by 4 wall studs, primed siding, asphalt roofing, overhead door, one window and 8" overhang.

These attractive prices and terms can be projected toward any home improvement problem. Fox Cities are invited to check the following list and see if E & R can be of service. The list includes improvement of a kitchen, bath, bedrooms, new siding, roofing, walks, drive, painting, insulation, heating, electrical work, sheet metal, fireplace, garage, recreation room, porch or exterior home design.

"Call us, whatever your need may be," the firm maintains. E & R has qualified men to solve any design problem and in the least expensive manner. "It doesn't cost a cent to call and talk... and while talk is cheap, so can your addition or remodeling be inexpensive, too," a company spokesman said.

Further information may be obtained by calling the E & R Construction Company, remodeling division, at Parkway 2-6466. Company offices are located north of Neenah on Highway 41, near the viaduct.

Macs Play Host to Freedom in League Test; Begin Busy Week

Menashans to Meet Four Foes
In Five Days; Drury to Hurl

Menasha — The Menasha Macs will begin a busy schedule of four games within a period of five days with a Fox River Valley league contest against Freedom Wednesday night. All four games will be played at home.

The Freedom contest was originally scheduled for next Sunday but was moved up a couple of days because the Macs are entertaining the All-American girls team Sunday afternoon.

Plays Milwaukee

Friday night the Menashans will take on Harrison in a test which will be Harrison's home game. The game was postponed at Harrison on May 25 because of wet grounds and rained out when rescheduled for the Menasha park the following week.

Saturday night the Menasha nine entertains the Superior Welding team of the Milwaukee Major league and Sunday afternoon collides with the All-American Girls squad.

Manager Edward "Butch" Konetzke has nominated lefty Mort Drury as his starting pitcher against Freedom. Drury hurled a win over Valley Fair last Sunday in his first 1958 appearance as a Mac.

Konetzke said the opening lineup will consist of himself, Darold Eggert and Dick Frank in the outfield, John DeYoung, Clem Massey, Ken Konetzke and Jack Konetzke in the infield and "Bud" Koehnke behind the plate.

Stenson Joins Macs

The manager reported that Vic Stenson, who just completed a fine season at Miami, will be available for at least two weeks. Stenson racked up the most wins ever turned in by a Miami hurler.

Freedom currently is tied with Reedsville and Manitowish for second place with a 3-1 record. The Macs have 2-1 for fifth place. Little Chute - Kimberly leads with 4-0.

The Freedom nine trounced Harrison 17-1 Sunday afternoon for its most recent victory. Mike VandenHeuvel, who toiled several seasons for Harrison before joining Freedom last year, is expected to be on the mound for the visitors.

Scheffing Says His Team Has Pennant Aims

Declares No Club Will Go on Long Rampage

Chicago —(P)— The Chicago Cubs are in fifth place, only 4½ games out of the lead with a third of the season gone and Manager Bob Scheffing says "we're going to try to win the pennant."

The Cubs, winners of seven of their last 11 games, were to open a 3-game series in Wrigley field today against the second-place Milwaukee Braves. Scheffing said:

"I'm not popping off, but I haven't seen any team in the National league that looks like it will make it a runaway."

"We have three pitchers—Dick Drott, Moe Drabowsky and Taylor Phillips—who are better than any three pitchers on any other club in the league. They're young, strong and in perfect condition. They're going to pitch with only three days rest and I think they have the stamina for it."

"If we continue to get the batting power we've had we'll be up there," Scheffing continued. "I don't think any of the other clubs has the strength to go off on a long rampage—like winning 15 out of 18. We've got as good a chance to do this as any of the others."

Scheffing added:

"The players feel they have a chance. We're in a contending position after losing seven in a row last month. We're better now than then. And, we've got Al Dark, a great competitor, and three starting pitchers who are hot."

Zimmerman Is JCC Net Champ

Jungers-Semmelhack Duo Also Qualifies For State Meet

Three Appleton youths have earned places in the July 11-13 state junior chamber of commerce tennis tournament in Milwaukee.

John Zimmerman earned the top by winning the singles. The Appleton JC's tourney featured Jungers and Merty Semmelhack will be the doubles representatives.

Zimmerman rallied to beat Jungers, 6-6, 6-1 and 6-2 in the singles finals. Previously Zimmerman stopped Semmelhack, 7-5 and 6-3 and Tom Lemke, 6-1 and 7-5.

Beats Keckonen. Ruth Jungers reached the singles finals with wins over John Keckonen and Lee Ruth.

The Jungers-Semmelhack team downed Wayne Krueger and Lee Ruth, 6-2, 5-7 and 6-2 in the finals on the Lawrence college courts.

The champions byed into the second round and beat Keckonen and John Wiley, 6-0 and 6-2, in the semis. Krueger and Ruth's semi-finals victims were Lemke and Tom Baurain, 6-3 and 6-2.

The local tourney was staged under the chairmanship of the Jaycees' Mylan J. Sinclair.

Rademacher Signs To Fight Folley

Los Angeles —(P)— Pete Rademacher is looking beyond his heavyweight charity bout with Zora Folley here July 24.

After the signing Monday, Rademacher told newsmen he's certain he'll get a rematch with heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson if he beats Folley. Rademacher was making his first professional start when Patterson knocked him out last August in Seattle.

Dav-Sox, Foxes Bombard 11 Homers in Menasha Contest

League-Leaders Blast Eight of Them to Capture Finale, 10-6; Losers Visit Rochester Tonight

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Pitchers Gary Mitchell and Gary Peters shivered a bit before Monday evening's game here as they contemplated the Little league dimensions down the Menasha baseball park's right field foul line.

As things turned out, the

hurlers had little to fear from the cozy fence in right, which is allegedly 270 feet away, down the line, but doesn't look it.

The chuckers were suffering from a case of misplaced mania.

They, and Fox Cities Foxes Business Manager Bob Willis—who would have been petrified if they'd been forewarned there would be 11 home runs swatted out of the park before the Dav-Sox pocketed a 10-6 victory.

Just 3 To Right

Only three of the 11 Menasha missiles orbited here Monday were hit over the right field fence. And, there was question about the legitimacy of only one of those — Bob Tano's 300-foot 4-bagger in the fourth.

The rest of them — eight by Davenport and two others by the Foxes — were kissed high, wide and handsome.

The Davenport triumph gave the Three-I league leaders the 5-game series, three games to two.

The Foxes and Rochester square off in a 4-game series at Rochester starting tonight with fifth place at stake.

Biggest of Home Stand

Righthander Rene Nodarse (1-3) who had been suspended indefinitely by the league for threatening an umpire Friday night may be reinstated in time to start for the Foxes tonight.

A Ladies Night audience of 645—the biggest of the Foxes' weather-hindered home stand—watched Monday's slugfest here. A light rain falling before the game probably kept attendance down.

The game was halted for about seven minutes in the eighth inning during a heavy shower.

Left-hander Peters weathered a 12-hit Fox Cities attack (which included three doubles in addition to the trio of homers) to post his third victory in three decisions. He got much stronger as the evening wore on, allowing no runs and just two hits in the last four innings.

Righthander Mitchell took his leave after allowing one run in the first, two in the second and three in the third on four home runs and two singles. Ted Sadowski, who finished, gave up four bases-empty homers for four runs in the final 6 and 1-3 frames.

Requested to Leave

For the third time in the last four days a Fox player was asked to leave the premises for arguing too vehemently with the umpire. This time it was catcher John Cuesta, who was ejected by plate umpire Fred Weber in Dav-Sox sixth while Davenport's Jim Lynn was batting.

Cuesta's replacement, "Chick" Payne, immediately got into a violent dispute with Weber but was calmed down. The Foxes' bench was "on" Weber throughout the contest and had to be warned several times by the arbiter to quiet down.

Left fielder Dick Lombardi and third baseman Bob Sagers each jolted two home runs and Jim Lynn, "Chuck" Lindstrom, Felix Guzman and Don Mincher each swatted one apiece for the winners.

Carlos "Potato" Pascual chalked up his seventh of the season for the Fox Cities while Tano rapped his fourth and

Champions' Entries Add Luster to Golf Field

Hayes, Stinski, Jabas Among New Fox Cities Meet Entries; Total Is 31

Two former Fox Cities Amateur golf tournament champions and the 1953 state amateur king have joined the spiraling list of stars in the 1958 Fox Cities meet.

Herb Stinski, who took top honors in the inaugural, or 1954, Post-Crescent sponsored tourney, becomes the fifth Neenah Ridgeway representative for this year's test.

Three top entries from Butte des Morts have brought that club's total up to six. They are John Hayes, 1953 state champion; Don Jabas, 1955 Fox Cities titlist; and Dan Steinberg, Jr., 1955 Fox Cities meet runnerup.

Chuck Bayer Enters

Another leading Appleton golfer, Chuck Bayer of Reid Muni, filed this morning.

The tournament field this morning — four days before the entry deadline — stood at 31.

Hayes finished sixth in the Fox Cities tourney last year with a 36-hole card of 155. Steinberg tied for ninth with 159. Stinski and Chuck Bayer tied for twelfth with 160.

Other new entrants include Ridgeway's Don Holverson and

Purkey Blanks Giants, 3-0, For 8th Win

Redlegs Gain 3rd Place on 6-Hitter; Mays in Slump

San Francisco —(P)— Bob Purkey, one of the two winningest pitchers in the National league this season, has a not-so-simple success formula:

Play with a team that gets runs and has a flawless infield. Keep your control and stay lucky.

That's the combination Purkey credits for his record of eight victories and one defeat for the Cincinnati Redlegs. Only Milwaukee's Warren Spahn can match it.

Purkey, with the help of strong Steve Bilko, stopped the league-leading but fading San Francisco Giants, 3-0, Monday.

The loss left the Giants ahead of Milwaukee by a measly three percentage points as the rest of the league rested. Cincinnati moved into third place, beating the Giants three out of four.

Bilko Homers

A crowd of 10,350 saw Purkey, 6-2, right-hander, toss a six hitter. Bilko powered a 2-run fourth inning home run, his fourth of the season.

"Control is one of my better points," he said after the game. "I walked only 38 in 180 innings at Pittsburgh last year and I always try to make the other club beat me instead of me beating myself."

He credits his 1958 success to "getting runs, pitching regularly, the best infield in the league and luck."

Boston Tops Tigers To Continue Streak

9-4 Win Moves Red Sox Into Virtual Tie for Second Place

By the Associated Press

Those Boston Red Sox are on a real tear, what with Jackie Jensen hitting home runs and a 6-game winning streak and all. Trouble is, they've done it all at home.

Jensen

It's when the Red Sox hit the road that they hit the skids. And they take off again a week from today.

After Monday night's 9-4 victory over Detroit, the Red Sox now are in a virtual tie for second place. They're just .003 percentage points behind Kansas City, and both are 7 1/2 games behind the New York Yankees.

Baltimore defeated Cleveland, 5-2, Aug. 8, a 7-1 fourth-inning lead by the Chicago White Sox was wiped out by rain at Washington in the only other game scheduled.

The Red Sox, 18-10 (.643) in friendly Fenway park and 9-14 (.391) on the road so far, got the job done in a 6-run third inning triggered by Jensen's 3-run homer. It was the big better's fifth in seven games and fourteenth of the year, one behind AL leader Bob Cerv of Kansas City. He also trails Cerv's leading runs-batted-in total of 45 by one, after knocking in four last night while adding a double and single to the homer.

Sullivan Wins 3rd
Frank Sullivan won his third against a lone defeat, giving up nine hits and blanking the Tigers on two over the last five innings. Paul Foytack (5-5) gave up seven runs on seven hits in his 2-3 innings for the Tigers, who dropped back into the league cellar.

Gus Triandos slugged his twelfth homer, with two on, in the first for the Orioles, who rode in on the 4-hit pitching of Billy O'Dell. In the last 8 1-3 innings, the 25-year-old southpaw faced only 26 men, one over the minimum, and allowed only two singles after giving up the Cleveland runs on J. W. Porter's two-out double in the first. Cal McLish (2-3) was the loser for the Indians.

The White Sox collected their seven hits off Al Cicotte and Chuck Stobbs. Tito Francona hit a home run.

One-Armed Golfer Gets Hole-in-One

Watertown, Mass. — Stanley Paltisios admitted today he bought the drinks after a round of golf Sunday.

Paltisios scored an ace with a four-iron on the 153-yard third hole. Paltisios has only one arm. His right limb was amputated below the elbow a few years ago.

newcomer Jim Nisewonger came through with his first. The classy-looking Nisewonger also smashed a double and a single in five trips while Pascual hit a pair of singles in addition to his homer.

The first time the Foxes played in Menasha, on May 20, six home runs were swatted as the Fox Cities beat Rochester, 13-4. Four of the homers just cleared the short right field fence.

3 Hit Roof

At least three of Monday night's home runs went up onto the roof of the Menasha Wire Works building, which is situated flush with the left center field fence. The building, which is over 340 feet from home plate at its closest point, is two stories high. (The left field foul line is listed at 322 feet, the center field fence is supposed to be 392 feet from the plate).

An omen of what was to come came in the Dav-Sox first when Lynn parked one of Mitchell's pitches onto the Wire Works roof for a 1-0 lead.

The visitors added a pair in the top of the second on Lombardi's smash well over the left field fence, with Guzman on base.

The Foxes narrowed the score to 3-2 in the second on Nisewonger's long shot over the fence and off the wire works wall, a single by Bob Van Dyke, a fielder's choice and Bone's double to right.

Sagers rattled his first homer, with no one on, in the Dav-Sox third. Lindstrom made it 6-2, later in the inning when he gave Lynn's blast company on the roof. Lynn had walked ahead of Lindstrom. A single by Felix Guzman then finished Mitchell.

Tano Homers

The Foxes shaved the score to 6-4 in the fourth when Sadowski doubled to left center and Tano homered.

Back-to-back wallops by Guzman (about 350 feet into the back yards past the right field fence) and Lombardi (about 360 feet to left) made it 8-4 in the fifth. The Fox Cities once more came up with a 2-spot in their half of the inning when Pascual's zooming clout (perhaps the longest of the ever-

Vike Running Star of 1908 Revisits Campus

Earl Jackson Coached Prep. College Teams 47 Years in Successful Career

One of Lawrence college's greatest track stars of a half-century ago visited the campus last weekend during the commencement festivities.

Earl Jackson, of the class of 1908, returned here for the first time since his graduation. He ran the half-mile, the mile and the 2-mile during his competitive career. His school record of 10:07 in the 2-mile stood for 40 years before it was bettered.

Jackson was the team's highest individual scorer in his junior and senior years.

Retires in 1955
Jackson retired only three years ago after 47 years of coaching. His final 18 years of guiding trackmen came at the College of the Pacific.

Previously, he had coached at Wausau High school (two years), Fond du Lac high (one year), Minneapolis (eight years), Carleton college (four years) and Knox college (10 years).

Jackson also coached other sports at various times in his career — totaling 20 years of the sixth and Mincher in the ninth gave the league leaders two insurance runs.

The game was the second straight in which the Fox Cities played without error. Menasha's Ron Dibelius sat on the Foxes' bench during the game but didn't get into action. Dibelius, who was signed to a contract for over $20,000 by the Washington Senators, will remain in Appleton where he will work out at Goodland field while the Foxes are at Rochester.

No Hits Since
He hasn't had a hit since, going 0-for-12, losing 25 points and tumbling back to .408, almost where he was when the spurt started.

Willie didn't do the Giants much good yesterday, going 0-for-4. The defeat was the Giants' ninth in 13 games.

Purkey, who never has had a winning season in the majors, won his fifth in a row. He walked none and struck out three.

The loser was southpaw Johnny Antonelli, now 5-4. The Reds also had six hits.

Mays, once again second to St. Louis' Stan Musial (.418) in the bat race, left four runners stranded.

It was Purkey's second shut-out of the season, third in the majors and second over the Giants.

Find Boost in Tax Exemption Cuts State Funds

Committee Reviewing Underwriters' View On Inheritance Tax

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Because many people are buying larger life insurance policies, a larger inheritance tax exemption would deprive the state of more future tax revenue.

That was the testimony of a member of the state tax inheritance division to a legislative committee reviewing the proposal of the Wisconsin Association of Life Underwriters to boost insurance exemption for tax purposes from $10,000 to $20,000. The underwriters insist that this amendment would be in line with the policies of most states.

Richard E. Williams of the state tax administration conceded that the exemption provision would have a negligible fiscal effect.

The insurance underwriters' bill would have the higher exemption apply only when a named beneficiary — rather than an estate — is involved.

John W. Freeman of the Wisconsin Association of Life Underwriters told the committee that avoidance of taxes should not be the purpose of estate planning, and a larger insurance tax exemption would help sell life insurance. Life agents are not agreed that larger sales would be the result of such legislation and the Association does not intend it to be a sales peg, he assured the committee.

Heinritz Will Go to Sheriffs' Annual Talks

Outagamie county Sheriff Donald Heinritz and Under-sheriff Robert Heinritz plan to attend the 1958 mid-summer conference of the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs' association at Egg Harbor Wednesday and Thursday.

The 2-day conference will be attended by an estimated 400 sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, other law enforcement personnel from every county in the state, and law enforcement administrators from state and national levels.

In addition to the regular sessions in which the delegates will be addressed by several authorities in police procedures, there will be forums in which various county level law enforcement problems will be discussed.

Participating as speakers and consultants will be Daniel W. Fults, special agent in charge of the Wisconsin office of the federal bureau of investigation; Capt. Harry Kuszewski, head of the morals squad of the Milwaukee police department; Sanger B. Powers, director of the Wisconsin division of corrections, and George R. Fritz, acting supervisor of the alcohol and tobacco division of the U. S. treasury department, Milwaukee office.

Highlight of the parley will be an address by Gov. Vernon W. Thomson Thursday morning. Following the governor's address, there will be a forum type discussion of legislation needed to strengthen law enforcement in Wisconsin.

The Pro Deo Et Patri—for God and country — award was presented to Boy Scout, Richard Natrop during services at Trinity Lutheran church. The award, given for service to the church, is the highest a scout can attain in the Lutheran church. His mother, Mrs. Oscar Van Ryzin, pins the badge on her son while Van Ryzin, left, and the Rev. R. D. DeLand Resigns From Library Board Robin D. DeLand, 831 E. Pacific street, long-time library board member, resigned today in a letter to Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell.

DeLand's term of office, expires July 1 along with the terms of office of Mrs. F. S. Samsbury Young, Mrs. Gordon McIntyre and Dr. William J. Frawley.

In his letter, DeLand, who is also a water commissioner, said he feels it would be in the best interests of the public if he served on only one committee.

DeLand has been a library board member since about 1942 and has served as board president. He was an alderman from 1937 to 1954 and has served on the water commission since Oct. 1, 1954.

Mayor Mitchell said he will announce library board appointments Friday.

Opening of Erb Park Swim Pool To be Delayed

Erb park swimming pool will not open Thursday as previously announced.

It will open Friday or Saturday, depending on a conference tonight between Pool Director Louis Precourt and Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski.

Pool officials, it is not clear who, ordered filling of the pool, a 21-day job, held off until repairs finish replacing valves in the filter bed.

Duszynski said today he cannot understand why the filling task was held up since the valve work, which he is directing by order of the city council, has nothing to do with the filling job.

Precourt, who teaches school in Iowa, is due in the city late today.

The valve project has revealed that water from the pool probably has not been properly filtered for several years, Duszynski said. Slop-gap work for this season will cost in excess of $500, he said, with indications that a large outlay will have to be made before next season.

Pool officials, the works director indicated, may have misunderstood the effect of the valve work.

They were arrested after a resident reported they were riding wildly in a car driven by William Metoxin, 27, route 2, West De Pere, around Five Corners. Metoxin was fined $100 or 40 days in jail for drunken driving. He was unable to pay the fine.

Fox Cities Get Encore From Errant Summer

Summer rushed back to the Fox Cities today soaring the mercury to heights untouched since the weekend and bringing in humid air hardly stirred by a soft southern breeze.

Thunderstorms hit Wausau with .63 inches this morning and Black River Falls had .20 inches.

Tornadoic winds and severe thunderstorms struck the northern half of Indiana Monday night as violent weather hit the midwest for the second straight night. Strong winds, hail and heavy rain were reported in central Illinois and sections of Ohio and Kentucky.

Fractional Declines Prevail During Moderate Trading

New York — The stock market beat an irregular trend in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Losses went from fractions to about a point for key stocks. Some leading issues made good gains.

Steels paced a decline of the industrials. Bethlehem was off about a point.

Rails, automobiles, rubbers and chemicals were other losers.

The market was mixed at the start and trading was heavy. Then turnover slackened.

Market analysts said the market was up against a technical barrier represented by supplies of stock for sale at or near the highest prices of the year.

Youngstown Sheet halved a loss of almost two points. Du Pont was about unchanged.

Fractional losses were taken by Chrysler, General Motors, Ford, U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Goodyear and New York Central.

U. S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Kefauver Seems Democratic Enigma

Presidential Aspirant Is Most Independent of Today's Politicos

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Washington — Independent, indefatigable, indestructible and inexplicable — all these large adjectives best describe Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

He is as independent a politician as ever twice ran for the Democratic nomination. When he sought it in 1952, he had arrayed against him the top leaders of the two most powerful wings of the party — the northern organization bosses and every last one of the southern elders.

This is the fourth in a series on the six young men of the senate who are Democratic presidential possibilities.

The story was about the same in his next try, 1956. But this time, though Adlai E. Stevenson won the top prize from the Democratic convention, Kefauver got the vice presidential nomination.

He is thus not quite a 2-time loser — having been in 1956 in the "place" position with Stevenson in the "win" position.

But the real point, on both occasions, was that Kefauver was able to survive such massive hostility at all.

His seat in the senate is up in 1960 — and this, of course, he simply has to hold. Thus all his planning must, and undoubtedly does, center on remaining in the senate.

Few Rules Apply

Nevertheless, few of the general political rules apply to Kefauver. And none of them applies to him all the time. It is, therefore, an entirely safe prophecy that any way or another his name will be in the 1960 presidential reckoning.

Kefauver's ambition, even at its height, has been the sleepiest-looking in the experience of this writer. But depend on this: Somebody or something — Kefauver himself, his friends or some turn of the wheel of chance — will see to it that he is not altogether out of it.

For Kefauver — and now the adjective "inexplicable" is reached — defies any ready analysis or ready understanding as a political force. Though from Tennessee, he is not really a southern politician — and not even really a typical border-state politician. So little is he in agreement with the southerners that for years they excluded him from their informal but real club in the senate. Even now, he only timidly "pokes his head in occasionally."

His speech, particularly in the senate and to some extent on the stump, is largely an amiable muttering and murmuring to most of his audience. His memory for first and last names — and a keen memory is supposed to be a politician's special requirement — is so bad as to be almost unbelievable.

Gains Smiles

This correspondent remembers crossing the Kefauver trail in Wisconsin in that same campaign. There this tall, gangling, gaping outlander seemed as alien to the upper midwest as one could possibly be. But everywhere he went, and no matter what he said or seemed to say, he left the stolid Wisconsin farmers in broad, fond smiles.

Kefauver himself at the very same time usually was looking unaccountably downcast — and a little lost. If any man is able to beam sadly, that man is Estes Kefauver.

As there is enigma in his personality, there is enigma in his senate record. He has cast, wisely or not, some of the bravest senate votes in its post-war history, particularly against frightened actions in the field of subversive control and immigration.

On the other hand, he has seemed to have missed a good many votes altogether. And nearly always about him there has been, to one observer, a faint, genial confusion. This correspondent has never felt sure he understood in the least where Kefauver was going on some issues, and why.

Boston Hospital Wants More Skulls

Boston — Boston City hospital is in the market for skulls — animal skulls of any type. This came to light when the mayor received a request from hospital officials for $2,500 to pay for the craniums.

Officials did not specify where they would get the skulls, which would be used to teach anatomy to student nurses and other hospital personnel.

The Deft Hands of Miss Dorothy Rappel, Appleton artist, were carefully watched by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ellenbecker, Appleton, as the young woman demonstrated watercolor painting techniques at the Valley Artists art show. The display of regional work was exhibited in the center mall of Valley Fair Shopping center. (Post - Crescent Photo)

Polio Caused Bill Cullen Limp; Didn't Get Him Down

BY BILL CULLEN

New York — It's quite impossible to be a fugitive if you're a regular TV performer. People recognize your face almost everywhere you go.

For example, as I go in and out of theater lobbies, or TV studios, people who recognize me from having seen me on the screen stop to talk to me, and the first thing they ask is: "Bill Cullen, what is the matter with your leg?"

For in scurrying around town from one engagement to another, some dates being very close to one another, they notice that I do a certain amount of limping as I step along briskly. I naturally appreciate this mark of sympathy. But this physical handicap bothers me not at all.

Like tens of thousands of youngsters in this country, I was stricken with polio. Even with the wonderful care I received from my parents and worried medical people, I still carry the scars of this experience, and always will, I suppose. Somehow, it never got me down. That's why I would rather not have people who see me limp along show any pity, distress, or compassion, since I don't feel the shortcomings of my physical condition.

Special Niche

I simply feel fortunate in having obtained the recognition I have in show business, and to have reached a certain special niche in broadcasting and television that gives me a sense of real accomplishment.

A real home life helps a good deal, and that is what I have with my wife Ann, lovely and beautiful and a home maker that you'd envy. Besides, I do get quite a break — though I don't ask for it, mind you — on my TV shows. For instance, on "Price Is Right," the NBC-TV program that I do Mondays through Fridays, no viewer has ever seen me walk on stage, or walk during the program period. I find it no handicap to work this way, and I'm sure that most of the contestants on my program don't know the reason.

Though I do my work sitting, and also for fun. I love driving, and have raced cars. I like flying — I was a civilian airplane instructor during the last war. So you see, a little limp doesn't stop me from enjoying a good deal of work, and living, and playing, both for professional reasons, too.
